NO CALL FOR SECOND ARMY BEFORE SPRING

FIRST INCREMENT IS ALL THE BIG CAMPS WILL ACCOMMODATE

General Crowder Declares There Has
Been No Consideration of Another Call This Year.

DRAFT REGULATIONS TO BE AMENDED

Washington, Aug. 22.—A full statistical report on the operations of the draft law will be prepared by the provost marshal general as soon as the mobilization of the first increment of 687,000 men of the national army has been completed sometime early in October.

Pending the preparation of the report and careful analysis of the conditions it discloses, no steps toward calling a second increment to the colors will be taken.

General Crowder said today that the call for the second increment never had been considered at any conference at which he was present and that he had no indication that it had been taken up in any way by the president or Secretary of War Baker.

VIII Fill the Camps.
The first increment will fill all the training areas—sixteen national guard camps and sixteen national army camps—to capacity and there will be a surplus of men beside those assigned to the regular army.

The regulars are now 12,000 above full authorized war strength by voluntary enlistment and the national guard is in a similar situation.

Training facilities already are taxed to make ready for the front men now available and it is regarded as very unlikely that organization of an additional 500,000 men of the national army can be begun until the early spring of 1918. Neither quarters nor personnel to train the force will be available before that time.

New Draft Regulations.
There probably will be some amended draft regulations based on actual experience with the first increment and some amendments in the law may be thought desirable by congress. It is possible that some provision will be made whereby all the sons of one family will not be taken. A new definition of the status of married men may be one of the things acted upon. President Wilson's recent letter to Senator Weeks is taken by many to indicate a feeling that a more liberal policy may be found desirable.

At present under regulations a condition of actual dependency must be established to obtain exemption. The condition of marriage in itself, is not

WAR WILL RAPE FROM CHURCHES ALL THE ORGANS

Paris, Aug. 22.—Bohemian papers announce, says a dispatch to the Paris Agency from Basle, that Austrian churches as well as organ builders have been notified that all organ pipes in all churches of the monarchy will soon be requisitioned to fill the needs of war industries.

SET MACHINERY IN MOTION FOR A FOOD CENSUS

Washington, Aug. 22.—The department of agriculture set in motion today the machinery for taking a nationwide census of the food supply. The survey, including 100 different food stuffs, will register supplies on farms, in warehouses and stores, and even in family larders.

A preliminary census of eighteen of the principal commodities will be taken within the next month, and a complete survey will follow after the season's crops are gathered.

Inventories will be turned over to the food administrator, which will base its work largely on the statistics supplied. The campaign will be carried on mainly by the bureau of markets, the bureau of crop estimates, the bureau of chemistry and the state relations service of the department.

Austria-Hungary, according to the paper, is willing to evacuate occupied territory and renounce claim to indemnity once the pope's ideas of disarmament, international arbitration and freedom of the seas are guaranteed and world peace is carried out, but all the consequences deducible from the pope's proposals must be understood to be

SWITZERLAND AT PEACE HAS WAR MEASURES

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 22.—The federal council yesterday chose October 1 as the definite date when the bread card system will be introduced in Switzerland. The daily consumption will be limited for the time, being 250 grammes per person plus 500 grammes of flour monthly. Even biscuits and cakes will hereafter be purchasable only with bread cards. The council also took measures to reduce the coal consumption especially through the conservation of electrical energy. Hereafter all mechanical work dependent upon coal must be authorized by the federal government of public economy. Each canton is expected to save coal by early closing of theaters, moving picture and public establishments. The sale of warm food is interdicted after 8 p. m.

LINCOLN'S OLD COUNTY MAKES A PERFECT SCORE

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—La Rue county, Kentucky, the birth place of Abraham Lincoln, made a perfect record in the draft, according to the official list received here by the district board. La Rue county's quota for the national army was 132 men. Only 132 were examined. None claimed exemption and not one failed to pass the physical examination.

This is in line with the price fixed by President Wilson. Other dealers will make similar cuts at once, it was said. It was estimated the reductions will cut Chicago's coal bill by $30,000,000.

In making its announcement the Consumers company, through Fred W. Upham, the president, gave the following cuts on prices of indicated grades: Hocking Valley lump, from $7.75 to British Front in France and Belgium, Aug. 22.—The British began another operation northeast of Ypres at dawn today on the battle scarred ground between Langemark and Frezenberg. No details are yet available.

Meanwhile the conflict continued about Lens though apparently greatly diminished intensity, with the Canadians still holding the Germans off from the positions which they had gained in the southwestern part of the city yesterday, and at the same time clinging tenaciously to the newly gained posts in the southern section. Fierce hand to hand fighting continued late into the night especially in the northwest portion, which lies be-

LEADERS CLASH IN FINAL GAME OF THE SERIES

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Unfavorable weather conditions for the final game of the series confronted the Boston and Chicago clubs in the race for the American league championship. A light rain fell during the night and the weather bureau predicted showers for this afternoon. Chicago is three full games in the lead today, having won 74 and lost 45, while Boston had 69 victories and 46 lost games to its credit. After today's game the leaders will not meet again until September 21, when the Chicago team goes to Boston for the final series of the season. Boston is seven games ahead of Cleveland, which is third in the race and baseball managers predict that the contest for the championship from this time on will be between Chicago and Boston unless there is a radical reverse of form among some of the clubs.

CADORNA TAKES 13,000 ENEMIES IN GREAT DRIVE

Italian Commander Reports Fresh Suc-
cesses All Along the Line
North of Gorizia.

IT IS ITALY'S GREATEST OFFENSIVE

Rome, Aug. 22.—More than 13,000 Austro-German prisoners have been captured by the Italians in their offensive on the Isonzo front, the Italian department announced today. The Italians also have taken 30 guns.

General Cadorna reports the Italians have gained new successes along the whole battle line. North of Gorizia the operations are proceeding regularly. To the south the struggle is localizing, especially on the Carso front.

The present offensive is on a vast scale than any previous one. It was so arranged that, beginning lightly, it increased steadily and rapidly until a hurricane of shells was falling. Then it suddenly ceased, a squadron of aeroplanes in advance of the assaulting troops forming the first line, using their machine guns on the Austrians at short range. Many prisoners were made dead by the violence of the detonations. They had believed their positions quite impregnable.

VIENNA ADMITS DEFEAT.

Vienna, Tuesday, Aug. 21.—Via London, Aug. 22.—The new attack of the Italians has forced the Austrians at some points, the war office announces, and the village of Selo, on the Carso plateau, has been lost. The Austrians claim to have taken more than 5,000 prisoners.

GERMANS GAIN AND LOSE.

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Germans made a violent counter attack last night on the Verdun front, west of the Meuse. They penetrated the French lines at points in their attempts to re-capture the ground taken from them in the French offensive but the war office announces they were driven out.

GERMAN DRIVE IN RUSSIA.

Petrograd, Aug. 22.—The Germans have begun an offensive on the northern part of the Russian line between the Tirl marshes and the river Aa, the war office announces. The Russians have retired two or three versts northward, between the marshes and the river.

Summary of the Day's War News

Another of the rapid succession of blows which the British and French are striking at various points along the Franco-Belgian front fell this morning on the Germans in the region of Ypres where the British were held up last week in their drive in conjunction with the French forces to the north. At dawn the British advanced over the fiercely contested field near Langemark and Frezenberg. No details have been received thus far from the battle, which is being fought over a section strongly organized by the Germans with concrete redoubts and machine guns. The importance of these positions is shown by the desperate counter attacks last week by the Germans after the Irish troops had made considerable headway. Missing great numbers of men the Germans drove back the Irish after one of the most bitter engagements.

Counter attacks during the night failed to shake the British from their new position about Lens and further gains at some points are reported of the British from London in which German last night continued their efforts to recapture ground gained in the new French offensive on the Verdun front. Heavy counter attacks were made on both sides of the Meuse.

REPORT ON KENTISH RAID.
The announcement issued by Lord French, the commander in chief of the home forces, says: "The enemy airplanes approached the Kentish coast, near Ramsgate, about 10:15 a. m. Being met and heavily engaged by machines of the royal flying corps and royal naval air service, and also by gun fire from anti-aircraft guns, the raiders were unable to penetrate inland."

A small party traveled west to Margate, but then turned homeward. The remainder skirted the coast to the south as far as Dover. Bombs were dropped at Dover and at Margate. Casualties reported up to the present were three persons killed and two injured. The material damage was slight. Two enemy machines were brought down by anti-aircraft guns and by our own airplanes."

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

MACHINIST NEAR ASPHYXIA

Charles F. Knothe Falls and Disconnects Tube of a Gas Stove.

Charles F. Knothe, of 1451 Summit street, a machinist by trade and well known in the city, was found unconscious in the bath room at his home about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. When he entered the room he fell, striking his head and rendering himself unconscious, disconnecting in the fall the rubber tube leading to the water heater and allowing the gas to escape into the room. Fortunately one of his daughters, who was in the house at the time, discovered her father and summoned assistance in time to prevent asphyxiation. He is resting easily today and will soon recover from the effects of the gas. Mr. Knothe has been ailing for two weeks and weakness, as a result of the illness, is thought to have been the cause of the fall. Mr. Knothe has lived in Fort Wayne many years and is well known among the shopmen. He was foreman of the mechanical department of the Electric works when R. T. McDonald was the head of the concern. C. H. Knothe, machinist at the Pennsylvania shops, who is a son of C. F. Knothe, is off duty on account of the condition of his father.

DOING AN IMMENSE BUSINESS.

Men connected with the sales department of S. F. Bowser & Company in various parts of the country, who are here to confer with the management, report an unprecedented amount of business, stating that the volume in their territory up to the present exceeds the business of the entire year of 1916. Among those present this week are A. E. Carver, city manager of the Chicago offices; H. C. Murdock, Chicago salesman; Christie and E. G. Oung, of the Toronto factory and G. D. Wolford, Chicago salesman. L. P. Murry, the Bowser mid-western sales manager, is also present.

TEST CAR ON NICKEL PLATE.

A dynamometer car belonging to the N. Y. C. is being used in making tests on the Nickel Plate this week. It was in operation between Bellevue and Cleveland a few days and is now on the Fort Wayne division, running in and out of Fort Wayne. This car shows the pulling power of the locomotive at various points on the line and by its use the necessity for grade reduction at different points is located. The Pennsylvania has a car of this description in constant use on the lines west of Pittsburg.

DUDLO TROLLEY PARTY.

The Dudlo club has arranged for a trolley party to Robison park and a dance at the dance hall for Friday night, August 31, which is expected to be a most enjoyable affair. Tickets have been issued and are now being disposed of by a committee consisting of Jerome Johnson, Lawrence Michael, Leo Bohak, Earl Stokely, Charles Trott, Edward Snyder, Henry Marahrens and the Misses Lillian Sliger, Anna Reiman, Ella May Brunson and Anna Morris.

THEY HAD GOOD TIME.

Miss Flora Bloemke, of the Wayne Knitting Mills, Miss Flora Limbach, of 1118 Park avenue, Miss Ceila Miller and Miss Edith Volkering, of the Wayne Knitting Mills, who composed a jolly party which left a week ago for Buffalo, returned home last night. They also visited Niagara Falls, Put-In-Bay and Cleveland, stopping a day or two in each place. "This just had a lovely time," is the manner in which one of the young ladies expressed her views of the trip.

INJURIES QUITE SEVERE.

Hugh Soltentright, the Pennsylvania fireman thrown from his engine Monday night at Columbia City, has been brought here and is in the hands of the local surgeon. His wounds are more serious than at first believed, consisting of bad cuts and bruises on the face. A deep gash entirely separated his lip.

IN THE COAST ARTILLERY.

One of the most contented and happy patriots in the service of the United States in the fight for "world democracy" is Earl S. Rufner, a member of the Sixth company, coast artillery, now stationed at Fort Depot, Delaware. Earl enlisted April 28 and in all his letters to his parents and other relatives he expresses contentment with his lot, but anxious to see "a little active service" against the Germans. "This is the life for me," he wrote recently when describing the camp and his surroundings. Earl is 18 years old, is the son of Conductor Samuel Rufner, of the Pennsylvania. When he enlisted he was serving the Pennsylvania in the capacity of fireman, but previous to that service was employed for a while as a caller. He is of magnificent physique, being six feet, two inches tall, as straight as an arrow and weighing upwards of 180 pounds. William A. Rufner, of the General Electric works, brother to Earl, and L. ated the nose from the upper lip. He was attended at Columbia City by Dr. D. S. Linville, surgeon at that point for the company.

Fack, of the Southern Pacific, and J. P. Gehrey, of the "Soo," traveling passenger agents, and J. McFarren, of the N. C. & St. L., and H. P. Bolt, of the Missouri Pacific, traveling freight agents.

DIDN'T LOSE A FOOT.

Nickel Plate brakeman Howard Wolford, who was recently taken home from the hospital, is getting along nicely and will not be permanently crippled. He had his left foot crushed at Stoney Island some time ago and for awhile it was feared the member would have to be amputated. Dr. J. Frank Dinnen, who attended Mr. Wolford, says he will recover.

KNOCKED AUTO FROM TRACKS.

Westbound freight train No. 7521, on the Pennsylvania, struck and knocked an automobile from the tracks at Van Wert at 11:49 o'clock Tuesday night. L. A. Heffner, of that city, was in the machine and escaped injury. The automobile was only slightly scratched and was able to proceed under its own power when righted. The escape of Mr. Heffner is considered miraculous.

DAVID RAIDY IN HOSPITAL.

David Raidy, the retired Pennsylvania passenger engineer, is in St. Joseph hospital, where he was operated upon for strangulated hernia yesterday. His condition is said to be favorable, though for awhile yesterday grave fears were entertained. John Raidy, a machinist in the Pennsylvania shops, was summoned to the bedside of his father yesterday.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT ON FIRE HOUSE BIDS

Unsettled State of Budget Causes Delays All Along Line.

All along the line the city departments are unsettled in their planning work and plans because the city budget for next year, involving the expending of the money for each branch of service, is still hanging fire. It will not be known definitely what will be done with the figures presented by the mayor and the city controller until the council takes final action on next Tuesday night.

Action was deferred in the matter of passing on bids for the proposed No. 9 engine house Wednesday morning. The board of works members will take the final step until they are sure of the fate of the budget. It is thought at this time, however, that the building of the Winter street station will be allowed.

TESTING WELL.

Swinney Park Spring Appears to Be Good Water Source.

It appears that the Swinney park spring, known as one of the purest water sources in this part of the state, will be a permanent source of city water. Its present supply is not diminished by the rapid pumping of a big gas engine, which had been hammering away for two days.

The well is being drawn on to the extent of 150 gallons of water per minute. To engineers it seems that the spring will continue to give water at that rate without being damaged. It is planned to attach the well to the city water supply within a few days.

PARK MEN COMING.

Indiana Association to Meet Here Next Month.

Work of improving the driveways through Swinney park will start on Thursday morning. Adolph Jaenicke, the new park superintendent, has arranged to have the effort of shaping up the drive and oiling the road surface carried on as rapidly as possible. The improvement is expected to be finished next week.

NOTHING KNOWN HERE YET ABOUT NEW LOAN

Allen County Chairman Has Received No Information on Bonds.

Nothing official concerning the next issue of liberty bonds has as yet been received in Fort Wayne, according to Charles H. Worden, president of the First and Hamilton National bank, who was chairman of the Allen county liberty loan committee. No communication regarding either the size of the bond issue or the quota which this county may be expected to fill has been received.

Mr. Worden said that it was his belief, although he had no definite knowledge of the next loan, that it would not be made until either September or October, the idea probably being followed that time should be given to get the first loan entirely paid up. The last installment on the first loan are payable the last of this month and Mr. Worden expressed the opinion that no action would be taken toward floating the next bond issue until that time, at any rate.

The only local news concerning the loan so far has come through the Commercial club, which has received requests to advertise the second issue through its letterheads and also urge its members to do the same on bill heads and letters of their own business.

Frederick J. Peckham, Former Manager of Pixley Chain of Stores, Drowns

Word has been received to the effect that Frederick J. Peckham, formerly general manager of the H. D. Pixley Sons chain of stores and well known among the business men of Fort Wayne, drowned Sunday at Sylvan lake, at Utica, N. Y.

Mr. Peckham, who was but 46 years of age, made many trips to Fort Wayne when Pixley & Co. maintained a store in this city, on East Berry street. The company moved its stores to the east four years ago and the local branch store was purchased by Stelhorn and Neireiter. Up until the removal of the store from this city Mr. Peckham would always visit his many friends and acquaintances while in the city.

The deceased, according to the information received, was in bathing with a friend. It is presumed that Mr. Peckham was seized with cramps and sank below the surface before aid could be brought to him. The body was recovered two hours later. He is survived by the widow and three brothers and five sisters.

WAS LIFE-TIME RESIDENT.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 22.—Mrs. Lee L. Martz is dead at her home in this city, aged 77 years. She was a life-long resident of Wells county, having been born on a farm near Murray, in September, 1840. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Clark, among the earliest of the county's pioneers. She was married to Mr. Martz in 1859. Mrs. Martz was a woman of intense patriotism and only two weeks before her death had completed the knitting of a pair of woolen socks for the soldiers. The husband and two daughters—Mrs. George T. Silvers, of Wooster, Ohio, and Mrs. A. N. Plessinger, of this city—survive the deceased. Funeral services Thursday afternoon at the residence.

YARN FOR PATRIOTIC KNITTING.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 22.—The women of Adams county who are knitting socks for the soldiers, under the supervision of Mrs. Emma L. Daniel, chairman of the committee of the state council of defense, to whom was assigned this very important duty, will be provided with more yarn, within a few days owing to the business ability of Mrs. Daniel, who yesterday succeeded in closing a contract with a large concern for hundred pounds of the yarn, at two dollars even, though the price quoted by the government agents today is $2.75. This makes it possible to sell a hank of yarn, sufficient for knitting a pair of socks to meet the specifications of the government, for fifty-five cents.

HUNTINGTON MAN DIES.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 22.—William McCutcheon, 45 years old, died suddenly at his home here, Tuesday afternoon. He had been ailing for about seven years, being unable to work during that time. Death was caused by complications. Mr. McCutcheon complained when eating dinner of his heart and stomach. Mr. McCutcheon was born in Wabash county, October 3, 1861. February 25, 1892, he married Miss Mary Adams in Huntington county. Seven children were born to this union. They moved to Huntington about eleven years ago, from a farm in this county.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 22.—A barn and three other small buildings on the farm of L. H. Keckler, located about five miles northeast of Millersburg in Eden township, Lagrange county, were struck by lightning and totally wrecked, causing about $1,000 damage. Two horses and a small amount of wheat and hay were in one of the buildings which was burned. Mr. Keckler is partially covered by insurance.

WED OVER HALF CENTURY.

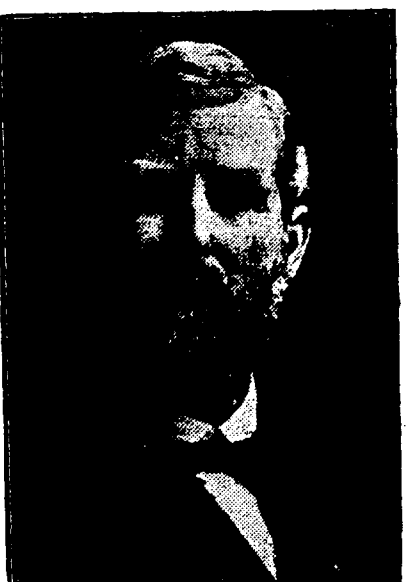

Kendallville, Ind., Aug. 22.—The beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Haverter was the scene of a happy gathering Sunday, when forty members of the Hovarter family gathered to celebrate the fifty-fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hovarter. The members arrived early in the day with well filled baskets and at noon an elaborate dinner was served on tables placed about the yard beneath large maple trees. In the afternoon a short program of music and addresses was given, after which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Bilious Attacks.

You wonder what upset your stomach. Never felt better in your life yesterday—now you have a bad bilious attack. Cure that first, then look for the cause. Keep quiet, abstain from food for one day, take three of Chamberlain's Tablets. Drink plenty of water. This will clean the fermenting food and bile out of your stomach, tone up your liver and move your bowels. You will soon be all right again. If you have these bilious attacks at irregular intervals, abstain from coffee and red meats and you may avoid them.—Advertisement.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The first official summary of the war activities of the United States will be issued in a few days by Secretary Baker to be followed weekly thereafter with statements of such matters as may be disclosed without violating military precautions.

The exact nature of the statements has not been made known. In announcing his intention to begin the practice, however, Secretary Baker said he would go just as far as the military advisers of the government deemed it wise toward informing the public of what was in progress. Information will be scrutinized for publishable matter and the impression was given that the statements would not be confined exclusively to past action, but would probably contain forecasts wherever permissible.

Daily Statements.
When American troops get into action in France daily statements probably will be issued, founded upon the reports from General Pershing. This has been the British custom and will be followed by the United States.

Regarding many rumors of disasters to American troops or shipping constantly being circulated, Mr. Baker reiterated emphatically the pledge of the administration to withhold no news of misadventure of the forces from the public.

Will Be Announced.
Every untoward happening will be announced promptly, he said, and the public may rest assured that no news means good news to that extent. Such rumors as have been current recently, he said, were without any foundation whatever.

The extent to which naval happenings can be made public is a different matter. Secretary Daniels has promised that news of disasters will be given out with as little delay as possible, but it is not to be expected that the extent of damage to naval craft, temporary disablement of destroyers or other vessels either as a result of action or through accident, will be disclosed. The practice of all countries has been to keep the enemy as much in the dark as possible on such matters.

Few Drops on a
Corn or Callus

Instantly stops pain and they lift right off with fingers.

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug called freezone. It is a compound made from ether.

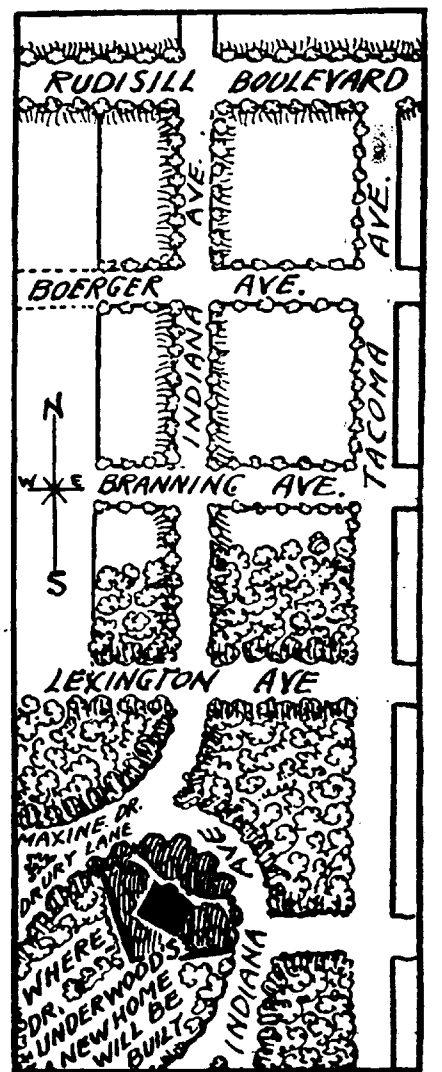

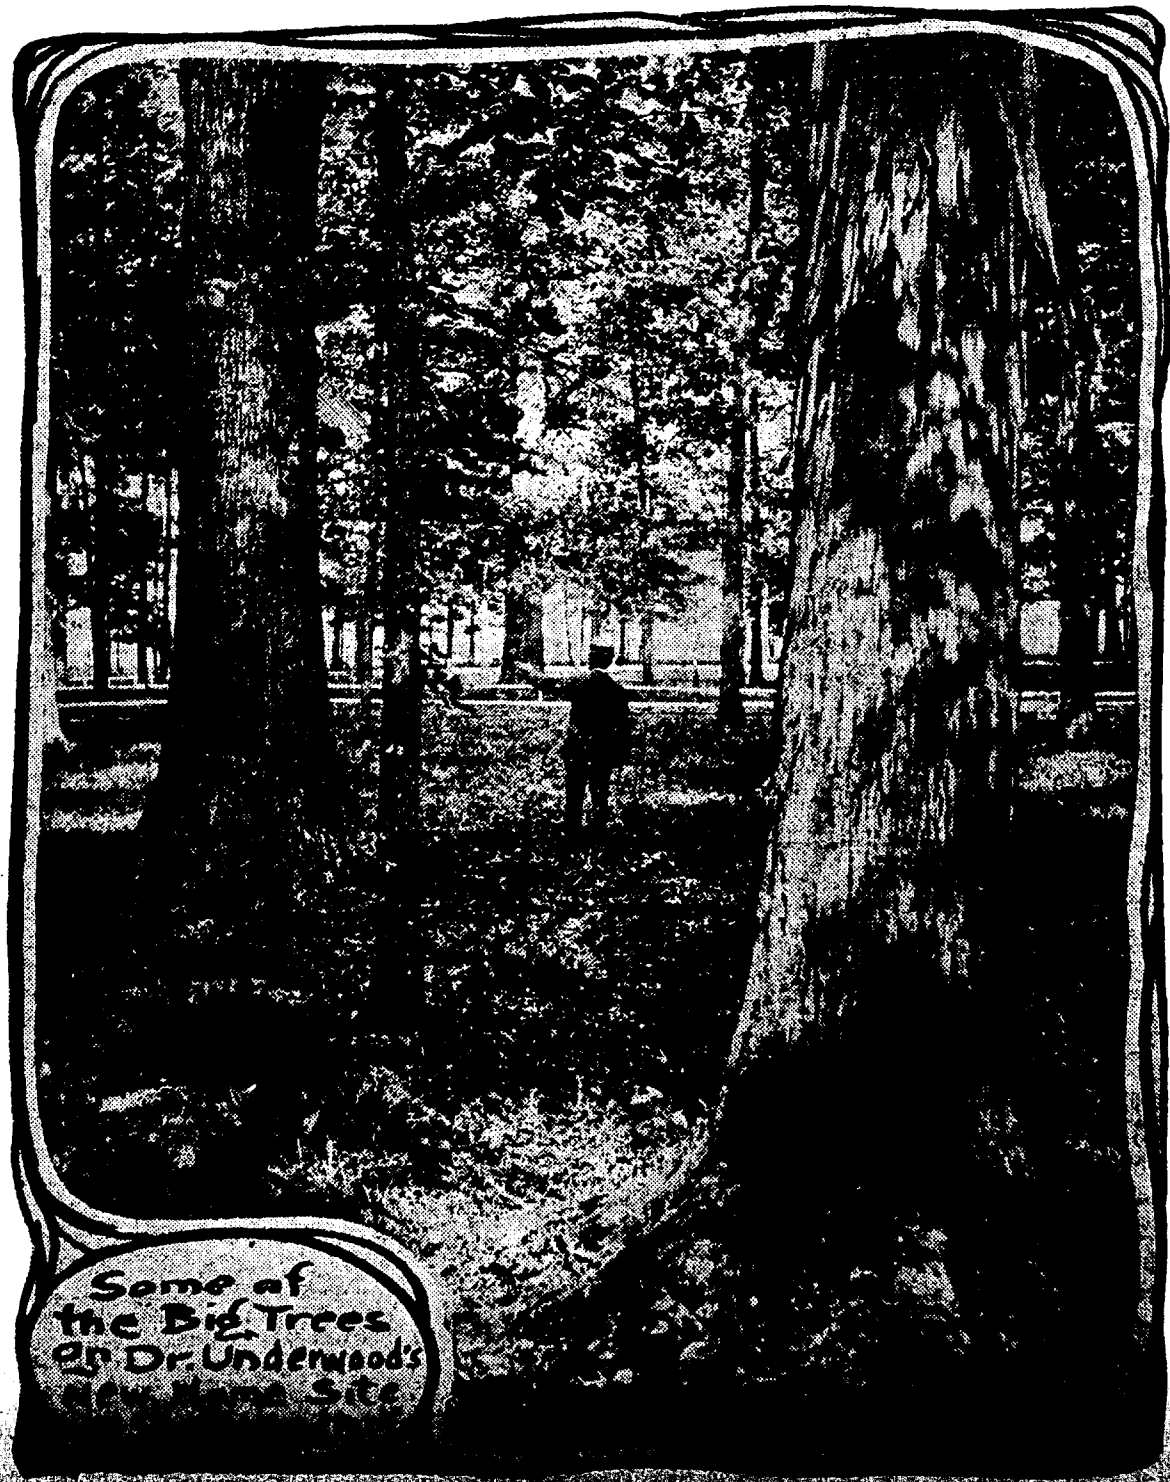

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers. It doesn't hurt one particle.

You feel no pain or soreness when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet.

Women! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1917.

TO BE ESCAPED IF POSSIBLE.

In general, Governor Goodrich's policy to await the compulsion of events before calling the Indiana legislature together in extra session is to be commended. If a session can be dispensed with, surely on many accounts it ought to be. It will spare the state a small item of expense and possible contingencies more to be escaped even than expense.

The primary purpose of a special session, if one shall be called, will be to deal with the coal situation in the state. Since it now is clear that the federal government has in design executive measures that will solve the fuel question for the whole country, it seems probable that Indiana will be relieved of necessity for recourse to her own ways and means for dealing with the problem of Indiana coal production, distribution and prices.

It is much to be hoped that matters will fall out entirely this wise. It will avail little that leaders of both political parties get together in a resolve to keep partisan politics out of the legislature. To hold fast by such a goodly resolve will be quite another matter. If it ever has been done in any legislature, history is silent upon the fact and we doubt if history can be deemed guilty of an oversight so flagrant of an incident so exceptional. The close party vision in the senate would be quite apt to breed differences of a partisan sort, while there would scarcely fail to be survivals of the feeling engendered in the winter session.

Besides this, it is doubtful if there could be kept out of the session considerations of certain issues not in the usual sense partisan, but nevertheless calculated strongly to create sharp cleavages, a heated state of mind, stubborn contentions and all the obstinacies that make for deadlocks and a prolonged sitting. Just at this time there are reasons which supervene to forbid the injection of radical questions of politics into a session of the legislature and into the general mind of the electorate. The one paramount business of the state, as it is of the whole country, is to strengthen itself in every way for the war in which the nation is engaged. Whatever may positively or potentially have power to weaken, hamper or embarrass the government and the state in any effort purposed to equip the country to fight and to bring the war to a speedy and victorious conclusion ought to be avoided.

The governor will disappoint no very great number of the people of Indiana if, in the event a special session shall turn out not to be compulsive, he decline to convoke the general assembly at this time.

CONSERVATION OF FOOD ANIMALS.

Live hogs commanded twenty dollars a hundred in the Chicago stockyards yesterday. This price, that is without precedent, cannot be ascribed to any manipulation of the markets. The price of hogs has been steadily advancing for some time and in recent weeks rapidly toward the peak that was attained yesterday. The probability is that hogs will yet go much higher and continue to advance until the demand for dressed pork shall have been diminished by the prohibitive character of prices to the consumer.

A day or two ago the press of the country carried a story from Washington stating upon the authority of Food Director Hoover that a meat famine is coming upon the whole world. It is not to be doubted, sensational as the story may appear. For years the world's production of beef and pork has failed to keep pace with demand. In this country it is notoriously the fact that the ratio of production to population has steadfastly diminished, while domestic consumption has joined with foreign demand to enlarge the call upon America for flesh foods. What is true of beef cattle is true of hogs and sheep. And there is an aggravation of the matter by the increasing folly of increasing the consumption of veal and lamb. The slaughter of food animals that have not matured is not alone to blame for the decline in the production of beef and mutton, but is a determinable factor. It is now stated on authority that immense numbers of young hogs are going to market in all parts of the country, growers yielding to the unprecedented temptation of prices and parting with young pigs that ought to be permitted to double their weight before going to market.

In short, we are killing in a very literal way the goose that lays the golden egg. Demand for veal and lamb on a huge scale prevents reproduction of cattle and sheep. This means a progressive decline of the production of these food animals, while to this evil is now added another that it is feared may result in greatly curtailing the production of pork in the country.

Altogether apart from the necessities put critically upon us by the fact of the great war we are in, the conservation of food animals and some sort of an enforced policy of increase must be adopted or there will come a time when the vegetarian diet will cease to be less a matter of hygienic conviction, shallow faddism or the like and more a matter of blunt necessity. Scarcity of food animals can only spell high prices for flesh foods. Such prices today seem a criminal enormity and it may be that there is in the ruling scale some such element, but there is no denying the scarcity here and in all the world and the demand here and in all the world.

The government at Washington and the governments of all the states can address themselves to no more critical domestic problem than that which is embraced by the mounting costs of flesh foods and the certain consequence that increasing scarcity will wring the people of the land yet more ruthlessly than any one now thinks.

GETTING AT IT.

President Wilson has fixed the price of coal at the mines. There is, as it appears, a horizontal cut of about a dollar a ton from the prices agreed upon some weeks ago by the coal operators in Washington, when appeal was made to their patriotic sentiments. Nothing came of the understanding—partly because the secretaries of war and the navy denounced the price fixed as still excessive and unfair.

President Wilson has put the prices down where it makes possible at once a profit all along the line for coal interests and a square deal to the consumer. But the consumer is to be left to nobody's tender mercies. That will be seen to. The next step in the exercise of federal control over fuel will be to fix prices for the middlemen and for the retailers. Profits will be assured, but excesses will be barred. Profiteering in the coal business, as well as in the food business, is to be strictly tabooed in the United States of America during the war, if federal statutes and a determined administration of the law can together compass that much for the common good.

It may be that the coal barons will not cooperate; will not sell their coal at the price fixed; will refuse, even, to have any coal to sell. In that event, the authority that can fix prices of coal produced will doubtless be found or readily can be made ample also to mine coal. And farther along, should the need be, the government may be obliged to turn to merchandising. We don't know what sort of a merchant Uncle Sam may turn out to be if he essays that pursuit, but no doubt he can make out fairly well as an emergency coal dealer.

To the imperishable glory of their defender Verdun the French are now adding an effulgent renown by routing their foes from ground taken in the overwhelming dash of the initial assault. Verdun has been amply discounted in strategic value during the past eighteen months, but the French are not to be blamed for hammering away and getting back what belongs to them. Besides it helps a heap on some other segments of that tortuous line from the sea to the Vosges. Verdun is never going to be the blazing jewel in the crown prince's bonnet that it was designed to be. When the war is over and the German people realize and appreciate at what appalling cost Wilhelm consented that his son and heir should try to win an immortal military name at Verdun, there will be hot chasing of some one to the tall grass on the outside of the German frontier.

Government control and perhaps operation of the coal industry of the country may turn out so nice that it will just go right along, horrent socialism and all, to the peace, satisfaction, comfort and pecuniary betterment of everybody. There must be a prodigious volume of inconceivably dense bone in the dome of the coal baron's head if he cannot see some harrowing possibilities in permitting the government to seize his business at a time when superior efficiencies of government are imperative and it can make its show at mining coal.

It probably may be left to the day in which the evil shall appear to denounce the forthcoming special session of the legislature for its partisan performances. Maybe there ain't a goin' to be none.

By R E M

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

"OH, MY MOTHER, DEAR AMERICA!"

By the brazen gates, at the ends of the earth, my sons go down and stand;
And they push the sullen and savage hordes of the Hun across the land;
By night and by day my hosts go down in great ships that plow the sea;
And ever my flag broods over them, on that march, to Calvary.

My serried troops like autumn flames flash down to meet the foe;
My honor rests upon the breasts of those who longed to go;
My countless planes like whirlwinds wheel through spaces that rive the breath;
My far-flung lines sweep over the earth—my boats ride down to death.

Like sands of the sea, like leaves in the storm, like dust in the desert way,
My strong men plant their banners afar, and when I command they slay—
But oh, the mother heart of me tears, as I think of my sons on the foam,
And, oh, how I long for these children of mine—how I wish I could call them back home!

How I wish I could call my brood to my side, from the reeking trench and mire,
How I wish I could bring my legions back to sit at my board and fire,
How I long for the numberless faces of those whom I love and whose hearts call to me—
But I've set them there to make a prayer to the God of democracy!

"Oh, my mother, dear America," their voices roll and toss;
"The tank you set is red and wet, and wet and red is the cross;
There are three hard trees upon the hill, and graves there are three behind,
But we shall serve on Golgotha till we save the whole of mankind!"

Alas, I've set them there in the wide world's hate, these lads that are life of my life;
I have bid them stand to their task like gods, and to bear the burden of strife;
I have ordered them up to the thunderbolt the barbarous Hun has hurled;
And when they win, I, the mother of men, will give to my sons the world!

Remosophy.

Having completed our lessons in elementary cooking we are prepared to take the first lesson in elementary eating.

Assurance comes from the state health department that provided there is proper watchfulness the outlook is good for escaping a return of the epidemic of infantile paralysis. And this information is very cheering considering the fact that the doctors are not agreed as to what causes the plague, where it comes from, the best ways to fight it, etcetera. Yes, let us keep on being watchful—maybe some of us anti-serum specialists will discover how to have the trouble painlessly.

They're going to write an unconventional note or two to China, but what's the use? A cablegram wouldn't take so many words and might be lost in transmission.

Mr. Root says that the great mass of Russian people is law-abiding, industrious and peaceful. We are willing to take his statement that they are peaceful—in fact, they are almost pacifist!

The National Wool Growers association is simply trying to pull the wool over our eyes.

The prize pacifist is the man who expects any relief from the government in the coal situation. Women who fuss over the interpretation of various passages in Browning usually are not bothered with housework for a family of six squalling kids.

We trust that Mr. Hoover will not object to our drinking water—at least one day in the week.

To economize leather Munich has ordered its working people to wear sandals without socks. It will save a lot of time, too, because there will be no need to stop work for the purpose of socking up.

GERMANY'S YELP PROVES THAT EMBARGO IS UNCLE SAM'S SHARPEST WEAPON

Uncle Sam's Most effective war move has been the embargo on all foodstuff, feed, fuel and steel shipments.

This has alarmed Germany more than the threat of a million United States soldiers in France.

Germany knows months must elapse before we can transport a big army. But the effect of the embargo has been immediate in cutting German supplies.

As a result, a backfire of German propaganda here claims the embargo violates the rights of neutrals, for which the United States has always stood. The wall of the German sympathizer drowns the protests of the neutrals, nominally the sole sufferers.

The administration position, however, is that there has been no change toward neutrals. As a belligerent this country must see that supplies necessary for her and her allies are provided first. Any excess is available for neutrals, nothing for the enemy.

There is the rub. The principal imports of Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway the last three years have been to maintain not life, but prosperity.

Exports to Holland have been principally feed for the great herds whose butter and cheese has been sold to Germany at immense profit. Exports to Sweden have been supplies for factories to maintain her profitable commerce with Germany. The situation has been similar with Denmark and Norway.

In recognition of neutral rights the exports council, enforcing the embargo, is investigating the actual needs in all these countries adjacent to Germany.

We are ready to sell them any of our surplus they may need for themselves. But we are not willing to sell supplies to Germany, through middlemen neutrals, simply to maintain the prosperity of neutral trade!

Preliminary reports indicate these neutrals do not depend for their livelihood upon any considerable imports. Cutting off imports will and prosperity, but not jeopardize existence.

Holland, for instance, without heavy imports, of concentrated cattle feeds, will be unable to maintain her present great dairy herds. But half her cattle would supply her own necessary dairy products, and could possibly be maintained without importing feed.

On this very point, the Dutch in protesting against the embargo, have threatened to kill great quantities of cattle and sell the meat to Germany.

This government, while unwilling to see meat thus turned over to Germany, does not take this threat seriously.

"One live cow in Holland is worth three dead ones, so far as Germany is concerned," one official in Washington explains. "One good Dutch Holstein will send into Germany her own weight in butter fat each year, to say nothing of cheese and other products."

Germany has taken notice. Unable longer to get her normal supplies through these neutral middlemen, she sent up a great shout about the "rights" of neutrals which, as she interprets it, is the right of a neutral to buy from one belligerent and sell to another what the belligerents will not sell between themselves.

The same price fixed for our own government.

To them administration agencies have replied:

"We are lending money to our allies. The more each dollar will buy, the less they will have to borrow, the less we will have to raise. The less we have to raise, the less we will have to levy upon your profits."

Some of the producers have seen the point. Some have not.

The embargo act has not affected Italy. Every ship for that country has been promptly licensed. But not enough supplies have gone and not enough supplies.

The Italians say if they had the materials they could burst the Austrian line around Trieste and soon be in the lower Austrian provinces. This country is not so mountainous. There are several important railway lines which lead to Vienna and Budapest. Each of these great cities are less than 200 miles away. The Italians claim they could either capture them or so threaten them as to make Austria sue for peace.

And then they once more start their chant: "Give us coal. Give us iron."

DANIELS AND THE LEAGUE.

(Indianapolis News.)

Secretary Daniels has broken off all relations with the Navy league, as at present offered, on the ground of what he speaks of as "the slanderous and false statement of the Navy league, reflecting upon the honesty of the naval administration and the integrity of the officers of the navy."

The league had charged that the investigation into the recent explosion in the Mars Island navy yard had been blocked by labor interest. This is the charge that the secretary of the nounces as false. The country is informed that the investigation is still in progress, and that there never was any thought except of pushing it vigorously. The least that the Navy league can do, it seems to us, is to tell who is the authority for its statement. For the country wants the facts about the explosion, and also about the Navy league. Such a serious charge as this ought not to be publicly made except on the best authority. Such voluntary organizations as the league ought to be careful about what they say or do, for they are in a sense a part of the government. If the league made a false charge it, of course, under its present officers, can not be permitted to have relations with the department. If, however, the charge is true, the department is deserving of the severest criticism. It is for the men denounced by the secretary to make good, if they can.

IT WAS HOT WHEN THE GERMANS LEFT THESE GUNS

SWEAR WORDS WERE ARTHUR'S OWN BRAND

That is Why Landlady Thought He Broke Glass and Floor.

Mrs. Barbara Klotz, 2417 Oliver street, knows the particular brand of cuss words which Arthur Goebel, for a time a tenant in her house, used upon entering his home, she told in police court Wednesday morning. That is why Mrs. Klotz knew that it was Arthur who broke the glass from the front door and smashed the floor with a curtain pole, she testified. She did not see her tenant in the act of damaging her property, the woman admitted, but the voice and the phrases were Arthur's.

The several neighbors who had been summoned as witnesses had heard only occasional crashes and now and then a turbulent vocal disorder. It could not be proved that Arthur Goebel wrought the destruction of which Mrs. Klotz complained.

Goebel explained in his own behalf that the trouble was all because he had refused to move out of the house. He denied ever having "licked" his wife or raised an undue disturbance. The parlor floor is rotten and was broken by a davenport leg, while the shattering of the glass door was purely accidental, the man said.

The case, which charged Goebel with malicious destruction of property, was continued indefinitely.

Steel With Steel.
Jess Roehers, colored, who lives in the 240 block on Melita, spread an evil story to the effect that Elmer Fox, 24, colored, had been acting "Jack, the Peepers," about Roehers' premises. Fox heard the scandalous tale. He sought restitution on Tuesday evening. Just as darkness was gathering.

Fox called Roehers around the corner of Roehers' dwelling. The fray opened after three hurried sentences had been uttered by the two men. Police were called after both men had tested the steel of their keen jack-knives.

Roehers walked with difficulty when he appeared in police court Wednesday morning. He had felt Fox's keen blade along his prominent ribs, he admitted in a weakened voice. Fox bore a white patch across his left cheek. The bandage covered the path of Roehers' knife.

Fox admitted that he had approached the Roehers home with his knife opened in his pocket. He was taking no chances he said. He also corroborated the story that he ran away after Roehers steel had traced a neat line across his face. Fox was fined $35 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge. Roehers was fined $5 and costs on a like complaint.

Paid Their Fines.
Mrs. Grace Jones and Fred Kase, both past middle age and both of whom have lost their earlier companions, pleaded guilty to charges of living together. Police had taken them from a house on Ross street, late Tuesday night. They were each fined $15 and costs.

Just Back from Fort.
Paul F. Schrader returned from Fort Benjamin Harrison on Monday with the glory of having earned the shoulder straps. He drove his father's machine to the left of the "keep to the right" sign at the corner of Putnam and Wells street, on Tuesday. He answered a charge of violating the traffic rules on Wednesday.

Schrader said he believed the sign had been moved and that there was little room for making a turn to the right. He was released.

Other Police Court Cases.
Sidney Molen, who said he was born in 1895 and who is not registered for draft was charged over to the custody of federal authorities.

Cases of public intoxication were: Charles Deatwiler, fined $1 and costs; Robert Holly, Bert Rurch and Frank McConnell were released.

AT THE PALACE

FIVE VIOLIN GIRLS.

Charming Bit of Harmony and Dance on New Palace Bill.

The Five Violin Girls, a quintet of musical lassies in song, dance and instrumental numbers will feature the bill for the week-end at the New Palace opening Thursday afternoon. These five melodious maidens play a half score of instruments and intersperse several vocal numbers in their act. Wellington Cross, formerly of the team of Cross and Josephine and until recently a starred favorite with the "Go-To-It" company, will present an arrangement of songs and stories, while others on the bill include Harold Dukane and company in their own numbers about futuristic dancing; Daniels and Walter, the Yankee soldier designers of nonsense; Anderson and Goines, black face funsters, and Love and Wilbur, the thrilling aerial team.

The bill which tonight has given the New Palace a new opening record to shoot at. It is featured by the exquisite Marmeline Sisters in their wholly delightful interpretive dancing act; the great jazz act, the Tennessee Ten; Demarest and Collette in musical novelties and nut comedy; W. S. Harvey and company in the "House Upside Down," in which Harvey juggles everything from a feather duster to a bed, and Dorothy Kenton, the girl with the banjo.

AT THE GRAND.

Today the Grand theater presents the first favorite film feature, entitled "The Test," featuring Clara Kimball Young and Harry Northrup. The favorite film features include only the classics of film productions that were made three and four years ago and the players who appear in them are among the greatest on the screens today.

Certainly there can be no more valuable stars than such names as Clara Kimball Young, Edith Storey, Sidney Young and Harry Northrup. The favorite film features include only the classics of film productions that were made three and four years ago and the players who appear in them are among the greatest on the screens today.

The management of the Grand has arranged booking for six weeks in advance and each Wednesday and Thursday of the above stars will appear on the program. Also arrangements have been completed to begin a new serial, entitled "The Fighting Trail." Watch for the date.

Velvet is Coming to Town in High Favor

Velvet, the fabric of the rich and rare and royal, is the favored material for suits, separate coats and wraps, evening gowns, afternoon toilettes and above everything hats, capping a velvety climax.

Already coming velvets cast their shadows above and many fashionable feather brains are aborning under August suns and hats of velvet. Black velvet tams, draped turbans of vivid colors, emerald green or royal purple velvet, usually adorned with a silken tassel, and large broad brimmed velvet shapes in black, wine or purple velvet are the most ubiquitous. Straws no longer show which way the fashionable whims go—it's the velvet lid that's on.

As for the gowns and suits and wraps of velvet the advance models now being shown certainly have much in the way of beauty to offer as an extension of their flying in the face of conservation and economy in war times. Dye shortage seems to have no power to dim their gorgeous hues, nor the divergence of facile fingers to knitting, bandage rolling, canning, gardening and munition making to have lessened the haberdashery with which they are adorned.

Smart and cunning little trotter suits have short box coats of velvet, preferably black, and short rather than plain skirts either of the same or of black, navy or blue serge, white and black.

Interlacing Belt Sets Off New Coat

By BETTY BROWN.

This new model coat retains all the comfort and warm usefulness of a straightline box coat, with an increased charm of line, further enhanced by distinctive style touches. The interlacing belt is the latest. The buttons on cuffs and back of belt, and the fur trimmings, are all cleverly designed to relieve the plain effect.

sat in waistcoats buttoned up high and mannishly complete a decidedly swaggy outfit.

The wonderful and colorful velvet evening wraps of last season will again enswath your shoulders this year, colored and cut deep in fur and lined in exotically hued satins. Loose separate realm of the velvet seems to lie below the deep fur bands around their hems in the more somber tones of gunmetal, black, tete de nigre, Russian green and navy will vie with the garments of all fur.

Even in negligees and tea gowns velvet will play its regal part and loose mantles of pastel tinted velvet over inner robes of flounced lace will brighten many a hearth and home. Long, loose Turkish coats of velvets in Oriental colors, caught in with cords and tassels of silver or gold and worn with full Turkish trousers of black satin will keep many a tired business man at home nights.

Electric Fans Reduce Prostrations by Heat

A breeze feels cool and refreshing on a hot day because the moving air coming in contact with the surface of the skin permits the heat to escape from the body by the process of evaporation.

For this reason an electric fan used indoors is one of the best preventives of heat prostration or mere minor discomfort.

Every normal adult requires about 2,500 cubic feet of air per hour. Given this amount there is no reason why one should suffer unduly from heat.

Those engaged in active labor or indulging in moderate exercise, however, will need about one-half more of this amount of air and if during violent times as much as when at rest.

But added to the quantity there must be quality as well if one is to keep cool. The chief requirements of present ventilating science are cleanliness of the air supply, gentle motion and temperature and humidity adjusted to the ordinary exercise of the occupant of the room.

Many people are prejudiced against air in motion. In spite of this common belief science knows that only a constant draft of cold air, such as will chill the skin, is to be avoided.

In fact, a gentle draft is one of the best friends the seeker after health can have. Even vitiated air that has been set in motion again can be rebreathed by the lungs with benefit to the entire system. A lack of motion affects unfavorably the circulation of the blood beneath the skin and this prevents normal evaporation and loss of heat.

Eat, sleep and work in the open air, if possible. There is no reason to fear night air, although many people do, even in summertime. As Florence Nightingale once remarked: "At night there was nothing else to breathe but night air."

PINK PANNE SAILORS ARE HARD TO RESIST.

If you are not interested in rushing the season by covering your brain with a new felt tent, go buy one of those lovely blushing pink panne sailors, with nervous trim of crepe georgette that flutters and sighs. These panne things are beautiful enough for the angels to wear. In turquoise they remind one of princesses in fairy tales. In faint daffodil tint they cast a golden glow, and worn with a frock of snow white organdy, dotted Swiss, embroidered batiste or any of the numerous nets, they are perfectly topping top-pieces.

Should your frock be of color, let your hat be of white panne velvet, which may be dolled up with beading, chain stitching or even a meek little posy, if the posy doesn't mind. Or, you may select a crushed crowned turban, over which is placed plenty of vermilion notching, put on in zigzags and wiggles like the maple syrup on your wheat cakes. This new stinky snatching, which is a mere sea shade of the full-blown head, is dainty and dainty.

Fashion Designers and Military Ideas

The high officers of the fashion government can't unchain themselves from the military shackles. On many of the imported models there is this or that detail that suggests the uniform of the warrior. Also, certain models are named after battle places and officers. There is the Pershing coat, the Kerensky cape and the Jean d'Arc manteau. Even coat frocks show military designs applied to collars and cuffs. Women do not care for military effects and for that reason the lines and decorations are merely suggestive. We feel that only the soldier is entitled to insignias of glory.

Dress interest at the present time is centered in separate coats. They always troop in ahead of the winter suit and frocks for cold weather wear. Silverton is a beautiful new fabric, as is also the new montagnac, a novelty weave which no doubt will displace the rather ancient velours de laine. The fancy pocket with its pouchiness and puffiness is being displaced by the flap patch—a result of war influences.

Furs that trim coats are of better grade than last year, when all manner of dyed pelts were utilized. Cheap pelts are the worst possible investment, and the inclination now is to have good skins or no skins at all. The fact that summer furs simmered out inclines one to believe that interest for winter furs will be keen. And this is the time to make one's selections, before the stock is picked over and depleted.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR OWN FRENCH DRESSING

Three tablespoonfuls oil, one to three tablespoonfuls lemon juice or vinegar, one-fourth teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper.

The ingredients for the dressing may be mixed and poured at once over the salad materials, which are then turned over and over until the dressing has been taken up by them; or the conditions, mixed with the oil, may be first used, then, after each leaf or separate piece has been thoroughly coated with the oil, the acid may be poured on and the salad turned over and over until the acid is evenly mixed throughout. Neither French nor mayonnaise dressing should be strongly acid, and one tablespoonful of acid to three of oil is a good proportion in most salads. For fish and meats, one tablespoonful of acid to three of oil would be preferred by many. Equal quantities of oil and acid are favored by people accustomed to using so-called "bolled dressings" or by those accustomed to eating vinegar on cucumbers or tomatoes. Tomatoes are mildly acid and it is a mistake to overpower this natural acid with a quantity of vinegar. A very little vinegar or lemon juice in a dressing will "give point" to (or bring out) the natural acid flavor of the tomato.

SERGE AND SATIN MAKE GOOD DRESS COMBINATION

In the fabric combinations on frocks for ordinary wear, serge and satin are good friends. And the designers have developed a sudden passion for the drop skirt. In the partnership of serge and satin we see the silky fabric utilized for the drop, and this is displayed by an arrangement of side openings in the serge encasement. Or the skirt proper is cut in battlement designs, ruffles or scallops, which are bound with folds of the satin. Twin skirt effects are rich in possibilities for decorative designs and no doubt will produce sufficient thrills, since suit and frock skirts have not amounted to much in the last few seasons, either in length, breadth, substance or sartorial splendor.

The lifting waistline on many of the new models almost blossoms into the Empire. It is supposed to be clever to have the high line at the back and the normal line in front, but this arrangement is one that must be handled with tact; one might almost say that it calls for the genial hand of genius. However, the season is yet young and inexperienced.

TWO NEW SHADES OF RED AND BLUE ARE OFFERED.

Bluebird blue and Indian red are two new colors as dashing as their names imply. Modistes and milliners are both using them, and both combine splendidly and harmoniously with beige and all the various sand shades. Georgette they are delicious and make up into cunning frocks for the rather grand afternoon social event. France is so electrified by the coming of our soldiers that the souls of the designers seem to have burst into song. The models they are sending over are gayer and brighter, more fanciful and resplendent than any that have been produced since fateful August, 1914.

A Lanvin model belonging to the class of sunny attire shows a plaited skirt of beige colored georgette, with an over-robe, made very loose and "careless" of Indian red georgette embroidered in gold. A scalloped collar is not content to be only beige and red, so it is also blue and gold. Nothing stings about that; it takes the color of card and others the whole bloomier bill of fare.

CITY MAY GROW PIGS

Mayor Would Solve Garbage Problem by Fattening Hogs.

COULD USE LAND HELD BY COUNTY

Porkers Might Go to Feed Soldiers at Fort Harrison.

Fort Wayne may go into the business of raising pigs. Mayor W. J. Hosey will suggest to the council committee and to the city controller that the fattening of pigs be the method employed to solve the garbage disposal problem. The mayor will lay definite plans for the establishment of a city "piggery" before the other officials at a session to be held later in the week.

Hundreds of pigs could be fattened and tons of garbage readily disposed of by the method of feeding up swine, the mayor points out. The porkers could be sold at a neat profit or a contract for furnishing meat for the soldiers at the nearest fort or cantonment could be entered into. The disposal of garbage might thereby be turned to a patriotic use, Mayor Hosey shows.

Use County Land. The mayor proposes that consent be gained from the county commissioners for use of a large strip of land, owned by the county, and which stretches along the Grand Rapids tracks to the north of the city for the disposal of the proposed piggery. He points out that excellent shipping facilities would be at hand and the land is not the best for grain cultivation.

The new scheme could be started into upon a modest scale at first, the mayor says. Eventually he thinks that hundreds of hogs could be kept on the "city farm" at a good profit to the municipality.

One man would be hired for caring for the swine. His salary would come out of the profits in disposing of the pigs. In turn one or two men could be taken from the present crematory force, as the present capacity of the plant would not need be maintained if many tons of waste were fed to the hogs each day. The crematory would be kept in operation, however, as there would be products from time to time which could not be used for the pigs.

Is Practical. Mayor Hosey maintains that the plan of keeping a piggery in connection with the city is highly practical. Grand Rapids has used the scheme on a small scale for years, he shows. The Michigan city is now preparing to enlarge its piggery so as to completely supply the pork for one of the army cantonments, the mayor gleams from newspaper accounts.

Denver, Colo., uses a part of its garbage for fattening hogs. Columbus, O., follows the plan on a small scale.

An eastern city has just completed an investigation of the garbage disposal problem, the mayor states, and makes the report that the feeding of swine is one of the most economical and practical ways of getting rid of the waste.

Pigs will eat nearly all the garbage which comes from the city homes, the mayor points out. There would be much less waste than would come from trying to exterminate the grease from refuse, he explains. The hogs would grow fat on most of the garbage now burned up, he states.

The pigs could be purchased from a part of the $26,000 set out in the budget for disposal of garbage, the mayor indicates. The herd could be added to as the profits from the sale of fattened pigs were realized, Mayor Hosey shows.

The mayor is against the plan of establishing a reduction plant here and especially to the scheme of allowing a corporation to assume the collection and disposal of garbage.

"To allow some company to take over the garbage problem would be for the city to shirk one of its duties," says the mayor. "If the officials will hearken to the plan, we can care for our garbage in a most economical fashion and if the call comes we can serve our country by feeding her fighters."

WILL REPORT CASES TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY
Department of Justice Official Returns to Indianapolis.
J. A. Williamson, of the department of justice, U. S. A., has returned to Indianapolis, after having been several days conducting investigations, which he will report to the United States district attorney.

A special investigation is being made of the case of Frank Koch, who is now held by the local police. Koch, as has been reported, came over to this country on one of the interned German vessels. He spent some time in Mexico and from there it is said went to California and has since been in various parts of the country, including New York city, Texas, Chattanooga, finally ending in this city, where he was apprehended.

CITY TO JOIN CHORUS OF WAR ECONOMY LAY

Council Follows Mayor Hosey in Charge on 1918 Budget.

Fort Wayne will help win the war and will tide over the embarrassment of losing $52,000 in liquor revenue by following a path of strict economy. Mayor W. J. Hosey led the council body in a charge on the budget figures for 1918, when the lawmakers met as a committee, the whole Tuesday night. Casualties to the budget, as prepared by City Controller William Baade, amount to $26,150.

There will be no increase in the tax levy for next year if Mayor Hosey has his way, and the council remains in its present frame of mind. The program means, however, that there will be no new equipment furnished for the No. 3 engine house, and no new fire alarm building, and no new greenhouses for the park system.

Side With Mayor. Councilmen joined with the mayor in cutting the figures made by Controller Baade, whenever the two officials disagreed in their estimates. The budget prepared by the controller was on the basis of a tax increase of thirteen cents while Mayor Hosey expects to keep the tax figures where they now stand.

"From every side there comes to our ears the song which urges war time economy," said Mayor Hosey in an address before the big committee. "I read that in some cities the electric lights are being burned only half time in order to save cost of maintenance. We should not waste a penny until the war has been prosecuted with glory to the forces of democracy. We should have a part in it's winning."

"And the matter of the non-descript legislation on the liquor question," the mayor went on. "We have lost $52,000 without any provision being made for getting back a portion of that revenue. Let us go without certain benefits and improvements rather than dig down into our pockets to pay a revenue deficit which the last legislature inflicted of its own sweet will. I am not speaking of the dry measure as a moral issue, but only as a poor way of placing cities in a war footing."

In defending his action in striking out several of the improvements proposed by the controller, Mayor Hosey stated that the present police call system, while badly worn, will take care of itself for another year. He believes the first alarm plant, as now in use, to be reasonably safe. He thinks the park greenhouses will stand for another year, although Col. D. N. Foster, in a brief talk to the council, said that an eight penny nail can be pushed into the rotting posts of the hot houses.

Action on what are considered to be among the most important points of the budget was deferred until the regular council session, next Tuesday night. The garbage question will be settled at the next meeting as will the matter of the police and firemen's request for a raise in pay.

Several policemen and firemen attended the committee meeting and formally presented their claims for a living wage. Charles Harris, of the No. 3 engine house acted as spokesman for the fire fighters, and Patrolman Ward Hall told of the needs of the police. Both men claimed that wages in Fort Wayne for public safety workmen are not up to other cities in the middle west. Communications in favor of the raise were read from C. A. Wilding, Will C. Ryan, Martin H. Luecke, H. C. Paul, S. M. Foster, E. J. E. Porch, speaking for the machinists' union, of which there were several members present said that the action of firemen in asking a $15 raise and cutting the fire engine machinists off with but $2.50, is "an outrage against decency and humanity."

Decision by Item. The council committee took up the budget item by item. City Attorney Guy Colerick explained the amount of difference at each point where Mayor Hosey disagreed with the figures of the city controller. In all the mayor's numbers are $26,150 short of those presented by Controller Baade.

Councilman Korte leaped upon the first item presented. He moved that the $750 recently voted for stenographic hire for the law department be withdrawn. His motion was turned down.

From the garbage budget the mayor has cut but $950 from the entire account of $26,000. Councilman Hartman stated that he believes $15,000 can be saved by taking up some of the proposed reduction measures for the city garbage disposal.

Councilman Keller, Schlebecker and Hartman were appointed on a committee to investigate the matter of garbage disposal and the request for an increase in pay for firemen and police, and to report at the regular council session.

Items in the controller's budget which were either eliminated at the mayor's request, or greatly reduced, are: Street maintenance and repairs, $2,000; horsehoes, $200; assistants to city engineer, $400; sewer repair, hose cart, $800; city hall painting, $1,250; city hall supplies, $150; city hall lighting, $750; building inspector special fund, $500; fire-proof alarm station, $7,000; engine house No. 3, $3,500; and public lights cut, $2,000, left open; new alarm boxes, $300; engine house bedding, $100; motor hose cart, $100; pumper, chemical and hose aerial ladder, No. 3, $5,500; tractor for greenhouses, $4,000.

LIEUT. GLADBACH RESIGNS.

The resignation of Lieutenant G. J. Gladbach has been accepted and William A. Boothby has been appointed junior clerk at the postoffice. Gladbach's resignation followed his appointment as a lieutenant in the army, after having been at the reserve school at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Francis Roy has been appointed substitute clerk to succeed Boothby.

TEACHERS NOT TO BE EXEMPT
Appeal is to Be Taken in Case of St. Paul School Mentor.

PROBABLY WILL BE DENIED EXEMPTION

Only Recourse Beyond District Board is to the President.

That teachers and others employed in schools here in the city and elsewhere will not have good cause for exemption before the local or district boards was the opinion given out by United States Commissioner T. J. Logan in reference to a case of a teacher in the St. Paul German Lutheran school, whose exemption will be asked on the grounds that his employment is necessary in the school by Rev. Jacob Miller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

This will probably decide in the minds of a great many the question which has arisen in regard to the liability of school teachers. Rev. Miller told Commissioner Logan that in accordance with the sentiment repeatedly expressed by President Wilson that the schools should go on without interference by the draft laws, that it was his belief that good cause for exemption existed. He stated the case of one young man, a teacher in the school mentioned, who filled every qualification for the new national army, but whose position in the school should be grounds for exemption. Rev. Miller declared that he believed it would be extremely detrimental to the welfare of the St. Paul school should this young man be taken by the draft and that in accordance with President Wilson's views the taking of so many male teachers would work an incalculable injury.

Commissioner Logan, who is the person appointed to represent the interests of the government in draft appeal cases before the district board from one of the Fort Wayne districts, told Rev. Miller that it was his opinion from facts and the law that there was little ground for exemption in such a case.

The decision of the district board is final, Commissioner Logan told the minister, except that an appeal may be made to the president of the United States, who might affirm, modify or reverse any decision of the district boards. Even then the persons making the appeal may be certified for service pending the appeal, which may last as long as two years.

The teacher in question was employed last year to take charge of the recently established commercial department in St. Paul's school. He is said to have organized the work with singular efficiency and to have discharged his duties so well that to take him now from the school would greatly cripple the work of the institution.

WILL ENROLL WOMEN IN CONSERVATION
Cards Will Be Given Out by Boy Scouts Saturday.

The boy scouts of Fort Wayne will distribute cards to every house in the city Saturday for the women who wish to enroll in the women's service for food conservation. Two cards will be given to each woman of age in the city, one to be filled out at the time it is given out and the other to be filled out and mailed to the food administrator at Washington.

The distribution of the cards which have been sent out by the Indiana Council of Defense and the United States food commissioner and Herbert Hoover, will be under the supervision of the local garden expert and director of food conservation, F. W. Gray, assisted by local masters of boy scout work. The card which the women will mail in to Washington reads in part:

"I am glad to join you in the service of food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the food administrator in my home, so far as my circumstances permit."

On this card the women will list their address, occupation, number in household, occupation of breadwinner and the question "Will you take part in the authorized neighborhood movements for food conservation?"

For the Indiana Council of Defense the women will answer various questions in regard to the kind of service they can perform and a number of others.

TOURNAMENT PLAY TO BE RESUMED WEDNESDAY

Fair Weather Prevailing To-day Should Give Line on New Champ.

With another day threatening rain, the prospects for a continuous session on the courts at the Country club in the strife for Indiana singles and doubles tennis championship, did not appear bright. However, it was thought that if the expected deluge did not come enough progress would be made today in the singles to give fans of the net game a fair chance to speculate on the next champion of the state of Indiana.

Two matches in the second round of singles were to have been played Wednesday morning because of the late arrival of the contestants preventing their having been played Tuesday. Matches in the third round were scheduled to start at 2 p. m. The first contest in doubles was to have taken place either at 10 a. m. or at 4 p. m. This match was to have been between Bixel and Bixel and Lasley and Knox, and promised to be one of exceptional interest.

The match between George Baille, of this city, and Russel Bixel, of Bluffton, O., was one of the features of the day's play which was won by the local man. Baille came back strong in the second and third sets after losing the first one 2-6 and 6-4, 6-3.

The match was followed by one between John Bixel, father of Russel Bixel, of Bluffton, O., who played Fred Appel, of Indianapolis, state champion in 1908. Appel won 6-1 and 6-2, but all the games were hard fought, and the contest was a very close one.

After Wednesday's playing the competition should be narrowed down to a few contestants and there will be an opportunity to get a line on the probable winner of the tournament. In the doubles it is probable that the tournament will be finished Friday although it is probable that the finals may be held over until Saturday. The tournament was started without a hitch and run through the first two rounds under the guidance of Dr. Charles D. Humes, of Indianapolis, who is acting as referee.

REAPERS AMBITIOUS FOR TWO SESSIONS

Would Catch Up With Leaders at Expense of the Chiefs.

The game with the fast going Springfield outfit at League park yesterday was called off on account of rain and two games were scheduled to take place Wednesday. The prospect of their being played did not appear any too bright because of threatening weather.

The Reapers are just beginning to see pennant visions through the glimmering mist of a radiant hue and this will undoubtedly add zest to the playing in the series here. The Harvesters would hate to take advantage of the other club's troubles, but if Grand Rapids slows down as much as she is expected to because of the many injuries to her players recently, they will have to begin figuring on the bunch from Springfield pushing them out of first place.

No such glorious prospects dazzle before the eyes of the much humbled Chiefs. They are fighting for a cause different from that of their opponents at the park Wednesday afternoon. The Chiefs haven't any chance to win the pennant—a fact which, it is said, has been suspected by several fans here in town for some time. As has been said before, the Chiefs are fighting to keep Dayton in the cellar and although it has been a good race for the bottom honors, so far Dayton has had the best of it.

CENTRAL LEAGUE.

Leaders Win.

Richmond, Aug. 22.—Carpenter pitching for Grand Rapids, won his twentieth victory of the season here yesterday, 4 to 1.

Five hits in the second inning gave the game to the league leaders. Score: R.H.E. Grand Rapids 0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 11 1.

Richmond 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 3 1.

Batteries—Carpenter and Alcock; Gilbert and Hauser.

Errors Beat Evs.

Evansville, Aug. 22.—Daubert's error in the ninth allowed Muskegon to beat Evansville 4 to 2. Two home runs featured. Score: R.H.E. Muskegon 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 2 4 10 1.

Evansville 2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 3 6 1.

Batteries—Schoenberg and Niederkorn and Brennegan; Adams and Boelzel.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—In one of the hardest fought games seen here this season, Chicago defeated the rivals from Boston 2 to 0 and strengthened their hold on first place in the pennant race. A fist fight following a wordy argument between Galner, of the Red Sox, and Gandil, of Chicago, was one of the features. Gandil claimed that Galner tried to spike him, which caused the altercation. It was a pitching duel between Babe Ruth and Tex Russell. The win gives Chicago a three game lead over Boston. Score: Chicago 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2.

Indians in Runaway.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 22.—Cleveland defeated Philadelphia 16 to 3, hitting Meyers at will. Bagby allowed the Athletics only a few scattered hits and got four himself, scoring as many runs as he allowed the Athletics. A large crowd was present because of the military ceremonies. Score: Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1 0 3.

Cleveland 0 0 6 1 0 4 3 2 16 3.

Yankees Beat Boland.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—New York defeated Detroit 3 to 1. Boland pitching, lost the first game he has started against the Yankees in three years that he has been in the league. Score: New York 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 3.

Detroit 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1.

Make Clean Sweep.

Milwaukee, Aug. 22.—Milwaukee won the third game and made it three straight for the series from Toledo, 6 to 3 here yesterday. Score: R.H.E. Toledo 0 0 1 0 0 1 1 0 3 6 1.

Milwaukee 0 0 0 0 2 2 2 6 13 3.

Batteries—Brady and Sweeney; Slapnick and Murphy.

BUGSVILLE NOTES.

(By G. Whiz).

Con Daly is umpiring the Fort Wayne and Springfield series, which reminds us that you can kid McCoy but you can't Con Daly.

It is rumored that Providence will take Washington's place in the American league.

The Tree-I league averages just published shows Gluckson, of the locals, to be second in hitting with an average of .378 in 60 games. He played 35 games in the outfield, averaging .342. His average as a catcher in 12 games was .924. The "Hill fellow" also stole 10 bases. Pitcher Harrison, in the same league, topped the pitchers in fielding with an average of 1.000, accepting 36 chances without an error in 13 games.

Dayton may finish the season on the road on account of poor attendance at home. With the government aviation school going in full-force Dayton fans are more interested in the new soldiers that are up every day than in Johnny New's Old Soldiers, who are down as low as they can get.

"WHY MY DAD WILL WIN WORLD SERIES."

ROY ROWLAND

CLARENCE ROWLAND

Boys, here is just what you want to know about baseball.

A boy, whom all of you envy, because he can travel around with a big league ball club all the time during the summer vacation, tells you what he thinks about the world series.

Roy Rowland, son of Manager "Pants" Rowland, of the White Sox, the club which is putting up a hard fight for the American league pennant, is the boy and he tells you why he thinks his dad is going to win in the American league and then beat out the Giants in the world series.

Roy is 15, and a real boy. He's a pretty good ball player himself, by the way, a shortstop on a team in Chicago, when he's not out with the Sox learning the inside game as the big leaguers play it.

He is mascot and bat boy for the club and chum of every member of the team.

During practice before the games he is either in the outfield chasing flies or on the side lines playing catch with "Kid" Gleason or one of the players.

Roy knows what you want to know about the big league races this year, and he tells you about it in his own words.

(By Roy Rowland, son of Manager "Pants" Rowland, and Mascot of Chicago White Sox).

Of course I think dad's team is going to win the American league pennant and then beat the Giants in the world series, and I am glad to have a chance to tell the boys of America why I think so.

You see, I've been traveling around with the club so long that it's pretty hard for me to even think that they can be beaten, but then by being with the club all the time I get to know baseball pretty well and can size the other clubs up.

Then when I think about the other clubs and our club, well, I just can't see how anyone is going to beat us.

I think we are going to win because we have the pitching and the hitting which wins ball games and the spirit which will be licked. Why, say, when we lost first place down at Boston I wish all you fellows could have been around to see how we worked together to win those last two games and get back into the lead.

You boys know how it is on your ball clubs when you have a hard game ahead. If you go out there just kind of thinking maybe you will get beat, chances are you will—but if you go out on the diamond fighting and thinking that you are going to win no matter what happens, the breaks have to be pretty tough for you to lose that game.

It's just the same way on a big league club. The spirit of the club has a lot to do with it.

That's the main reason I think dad's team is going to win. Every man is fighting every minute of the game, and they are all talking about it at the hotel and in the clubhouse. When they go on the field they go with the spirit that they won't be beaten.

And if we get into the world series they can't keep us from winning.

The Giants are the class of the National league, I know, but I don't believe National league baseball holds a candle to our league.

The Giants will be awful hard to beat because they are fighters but I think the Sox will tell and I think we have the class of the two teams.

REMARKABLE RECORDS MADE IN HANDICAP

Good Marksmanship Shown in Spite of Unfavorable Weather.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The Grand American handicap shoot being held at the South Shore Country club has provided some remarkable exhibitions of marksmanship, despite weather conditions not all favorable. The first day, Frank Troch, of Vancouver, Wash., broke 129 out of 200 targets in the amateur preliminary, declared to be a world's record at 18 yards. Many of his shots were made during a downpour of rain. The second day disclosed some excellent shooting in the feature event of 100 single targets open only to state champions and runners-up. Roy McIntyre, of Pennsylvania; Mark Ayre, of Illinois, and J. C. Clark, Jr., of Massachusetts, each broke 99 out of 100 targets. This event was finished in the twilight and the three met today for the shoot-off. Honors in the women's event went to Miss Lucille Meusel, of Green Bay, Wis., sixteen years old. She turned in a score of 46 hits out of 50 shots.

The national amateur championship in doubles was the chief event today, the Grand American handicap, with 805 entries, being scheduled to start tomorrow.

MANY SENSATIONS IN NATIONAL TOURNEY

All Matches But One Go Limit of Four Sets.

Forest Hill, N. Y., Aug. 22.—The national patriotic tennis singles tournament at the Westside club is furnishing some thrilling games and the struggle continued today among the survivors of the first two days' play. All but one of the matches finished yesterday went four sets and Craig Biddle and Dean Mathey will complete their match at the opening of play today.

Clarence J. Griffin and John Strachan, the Pacific coast stars, met N. W. Miles, of Boston, and Charles S. Garland, of Pittsburgh. Harold A. Throckmorton will show his skill against R. Norris Williams II, the champion, and R. L. Murray meets the winner of the Biddle-Mathey match. The national boys and juniors' championship singles will start this afternoon and Miss Mary Brown will attempt to even up with Miss Molla Bjurstedt for her defeat of Monday in a special exhibition.

INTRODUCING "KIND HEART," ONLY INDIAN CHORUS GIRL

LILLIAN HELMAR

(By HOWARD MANN.)

(Star Special.)

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Meet the only Indian chorus girl—Miss Lillian Helmar. Don't crowd, gentlemen! She has never scalped a stage Johnny, but blood will tell, sometimes.

Miss Helmar was born beyond the foothills, but prefers to work beyond the foothills.

She is a Sioux, but she has never sued any Pittsburg millionaire for breach of promise.

She was born in the Fort Peck reservation, Montana. Her real name is Weptomana, "Kind Heart."

Kind Heart left the tepee of her parents—which in this case is a brick bungalow—five years ago. Her first experience on the stage was in "The Squaw Man." She went into the movies. Her eyes bothered her and she went into musical comedy. She has been playing all summer in Chicago in the "Show of Wonders."

Kind Heart says she preferred the stage to the primitive pastimes of the original inhabitants. And why shouldn't she? She was educated in eastern private schools and never wore a bead necklace in her life—except to have her picture taken.

Twice each year Kind Heart returns to her people. "I feel a call," she says. "And when the time comes I have to force myself to go. There is something in my blood, I guess. It would be easy to drop back into the Indian life."

Kind Heart is probably the only actress who has to report regularly to Uncle Sam. Every time she changes companies or moves from one city to another she must forward her address to the Indian commissioner in Montana.

Wise old Uncle Sam keeps an eye on his wards even when they go on the stage—even, or especially, when they go to the movies.

"I have never been married nor anywhere near it," said Kind Heart. "But if I ever marry I will choose a widower who has had two or preferably three wives. A man who has been married is the only one who knows how to appreciate a wife."

So much for the philosophy of Weptomana.

Some People Do Find Good Servants

They may be "lucky," of course. But perhaps it's more like good management than good luck.

Most of the good servants are found through "WANT ADVERTISING" or through answering ads. The patient advertiser, who tries again and again—is sure to find, as a reward of persistence, a servant who will be all the trouble of the quest!

NEEDS IRON
AT TIMES
 To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There's a healthy, rosy, cheeks without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women need iron they get a little too ordinary medicine. It's a little too much, and it's a little too late. Today doctors prescribe iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard-looking women 100 per cent in two weeks' time. In many instances, I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results. Dr. King's Iron Pills are recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King can be a guarantee of good drug quality. It is dispensed in this all good drugstore.

NEW RUSSIAN DOESN'T GIVE TWO HOOTS FOR A WARM WATER PORT OR FATE OF SOUTHERN SLAVS

He Considers Himself Nothing Less Than a Citizen of the World—Turkey May Keep Constantinople and Poland May Flock by Himself With His Best Wishes—But He'll Fight Hard and Gladly to Save Democracy or the Revolution.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
 (Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Russian casualties in this war so far are more than 7,000,000—killed, wounded and prisoners. Sometimes a Russian quietly and gently mentions this fact to an Englishman or an American that is lecturing him about Russia's duty in the present emergency, and then the Englishman or the American finds it hard to carry on the conversation. In spite of her terrific losses Russia will go on and fight, but she wants to fight for something worth while and not because somebody tells her to fight, and not for the things nations usually fight for.

For instance, Russia doesn't give a hoot about Constantinople and a warm water port. A warm water port—it would mean everything to the future wealth, prosperity and commercial greatness of Russia. At present her only ports on her European side are frozen out five or six months of the year and she is therefore strangled in her commercial development. If she had Constantinople she could spread her business and influence very likely over all the world.

The typical Russian knows this very well, but he doesn't care, an dthe rest of the world will not get hold of the Russian situation until it understands that he doesn't care and why he doesn't.

The fact is, he isn't looking for the commercial aggrandizement of Russia. He doesn't care to see the Russian flag floating in all the seven seas. He hasn't the slightest interest in the fact that Russia with a port open all the year could crowd England out of this market and America out of that.

He isn't disturbed by the fact that Poland is lost to Russia. If the Poles want to go off and flock by themselves and will not be happy until they have a home of their own, let them go to it. Goodbye, old tops! Here's luck and a pleasant time for all.

The typical Russian would no more

think of killing some Poles because some other Poles wanted to be free than he would think of killing his son because he didn't like cabbage soup.

And it isn't merely a passive feeling with him. He thinks it is dead wrong to be dealing in conquered territories and slicing up maps and all that sort of thing, and his mind is firmly decided that he will not do it. Let Turkey keep Constantinople till the crack of doom, for all he cares.

Well, then, what does he care about? What does move him? Why, democracy and his dream of universal brotherhood and good will. He wouldn't fight anybody to gain a dozen warm water ports; he wouldn't shed any blood for any amount of territorial expansion or trade.

But he will fight as hard as any other man in the world and perhaps a little harder, if he thinks his democracy is in danger, or the revolution, light of his soul and breath of his life, may be overthrown.

So then here is a new force let loose in this world, and gentlemen that love wisdom and pursue it would do well to consider it with the utmost attention, because, believe me, if it isn't suppressed it will tear up more things than dusty old thrones and put more wheels on the curio shelf than foolish, doddering old kings.

The ideal that is the Real—that is Russia.

It means business. It is in most serious earnest, it will endeavor not merely to live up to its doctrine but to spread it, and providing Germany doesn't overrun the Russian defense before the United States can get into the fight, you are likely to see the bulk of Russia's new social philosophy put into actual practice in Russia.

I know this is a startling assertion, and one not in accordance with the accepted beliefs in this country. But gentlemen that are sceptical about a Realized Utopia haven't spent days and nights in the Russian National Council of Workmen's, Soldiers' and Peasants' Deputies. I have. That makes the difference.

But anyway, it is plainly of no use to tell this Russian that he ought to go out and fight that Russia may be great in territory or in commerce. He doesn't want her to be great in either. It is useless to talk to him about his racial obligations to the Slavs of Serbia or Herzegovina. He doesn't think of himself as a Slav. He thinks of himself as a citizen of a world that ought to have only one race, and that the human race.

He will never believe that he ought to fight because a half-witted person, then called a czar, now (I give thanks!) harvesting potatoes in the Caucasus, once signed some papers obligating Old Russia to do certain things. Old Russia is no more, the czar has vanished, not one thing that he did can bind the New Russia.

Across the measureless gulf that has opened between the Old Russia and the New there is not even wireless communication.

But that democracy may survive in the world and not be suppressed; that there may be a chance to carry out the hopes of social regeneration that are the mainspring of his philosophy, the typical Russian will lay down his life without the least hesitation.

He didn't face death and Siberia, (which is worse) all the years of the revolutionary fight, without learning the value of freedom or the only price with which it can be either won or maintained—which is sacrifice.

GIRLS! MAKE LEMON LOTION TO WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY SKIN

In all weathers the skin and complexion can be kept wonderfully clear, soft and white by the use of this inexpensive lemon lotion which any girl or woman can easily prepare.

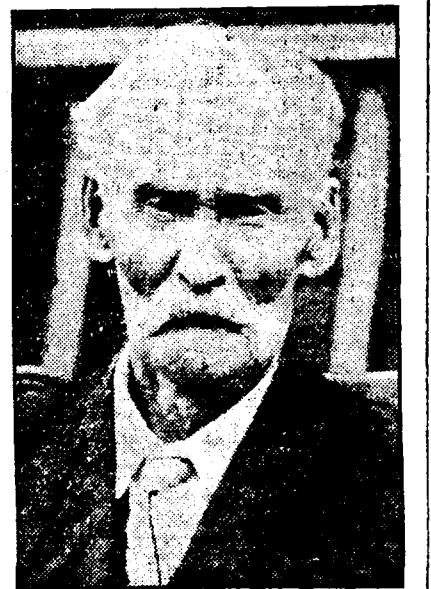

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and move such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. Those who will make it a habit to gently massage this lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands once or twice daily may be repaid with a skin that is flexible and young looking and a peach-like complexion.—Advertisement.

How Hair Remover In Demand, Say Druggists (Electric Removes Roots and All)

Since the virtues of phenetone as a hair remover became generally known, druggists in this country have been having a really extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. The fact that it actually removes the roots—before one's very eyes—as well as the surface hairs, is of course mainly responsible for its large and increasing sale. The new method is not to be compared at all with the usual depilatory, electrical or other processes. It is entirely safe, non-irritating, non-poisonous, odorless and instantaneous. A stick of phenetone, used in accordance with the simple instructions which accompany it, can be purchased anywhere on a money-back basis, so certain is it to satisfy and delight the user.—Advertisement.

NUMBER MAY BE CUT DOWN

Opinion is that Not So Many Recruiting Offices Will Be Maintained.

THIS ACTION MAY BE TAKEN NEXT MONTH

Major T. F. Ryan Can Place Sixty Men in Indiana Cavalry.

In view of the fact that recruiting is one of the most expensive branches of the service and since after the conscript army has been mobilized that not near so many recruits will be needed, it is possible that the number of recruiting stations in Indiana will be cut down to approximately twenty stations.

At the present time there are nearly eighty recruiting offices in the state and it is the opinion in military circles that only one main office will be maintained after the conscript army is mobilized.

Information is given that after the first of October instead of a strenuous drive for men in the regular army only perhaps from twenty-five to thirty thousand men will be needed each month and these can be secured even the number of offices are cut down to about a fourth.

Major Thomas F. Ryan, of the army recruiting station, announces that he can place sixty men in the Indiana cavalry troop now stationed at the fair grounds at Indianapolis. Twenty men were sent from the local station to Fort Thomas Tuesday evening.

GARRETT SCHOOLS SUFFER FROM WAR

Resignation of Supt. Carroll to Join Army Has Got Board Busy.

Garrett Short Items. The demonstration given by this city for Company K proved a success both in regard to attendance and the proceeds. The crowd was all that could have been asked and the financial results were $125. Mrs. the "Human Fly" climbed the front of the Church of Christ on East King street. DEKALB FARMER HAS NOTION HE IS DEAD

Jay Ridge, Well Known Citizen, for Second Time Declared Insane.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 22.—Jay Ridge, a well known farmer of Franklin township, has been adjudged insane and application has been made for his admission to the Easthaven hospital for the insane. Mr. Ridge has been an inmate of this institution before about eleven years ago, when his mind became very bad. He was there about a year and after showing signs of improvement was allowed to return to his home. However, for the past year he has been very bad and spends the greater part of the time lying in bed, and insists that he is dead. At times he is very violent and hard to control. Dr. Frank Fanning, A. A. Kramer and L. H. Harrison, of Butler, made an examination and report that he is in such a condition physically that he requires constant attention and watching. He is 51 years old, and has an uncle who is an inmate of Easthaven also.

The Auburn Vulcanizing works was sold yesterday to J. W. Metcalf, formerly connected with the Hoff and Metcalf garage of West Seventh street. Mr. Metcalf has severed his connection with the latter business and will take charge of the new business of North Main street at once. Elmer Deetz, a son-in-law of the new owner, will assist in conducting the business.

ALLEGED WIFE BEATER IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

Albert Fox Struck, Beat and Cursed Pearl and Was Otherwise Cruel.

Albert Fox is a more ferocious animal than his name would suggest, according to the complaint for divorce filed by his wife, Pearl Fox. The plaintiff alleges that Albert is an experienced wife beater as he has practiced the art so often that he has become proficient in it.

The plaintiff alleges that he was otherwise cruel and inhuman to her and would curse her and beat her up for any small offense.

Pearl says that Albert is employed by the P. A. Moran Ice company and that this co-defendant is indebted to him for labor. She asks that the court issue an order restraining the employer from paying the defendant his wages. In addition to attorney fees the plaintiff asks for ten dollars a week support money.

NO CALL FOR SECOND ARMY BEFORE SPRING

FIRST INCREMENT IS ALL THE BIG CAMPS WILL ACCOMMODATE

General Crowder Declares There Has
Been No Consideration of Another Call This Year.

DRAFT REGULATIONS TO BE AMENDED

Washington, Aug. 22.—A full statistical report on the operations of the draft law will be prepared by the provost marshal general's office as soon as the mobilization of the first increment of 687,000 men of the national army has been completed sometime early in October.

Pending the preparation of the report and careful analysis of the conditions it discloses, no steps toward calling a second increment to the colors will be taken.

General Crowder said today that the call for the second increment never had been considered at any conference at which he was present and that he had no indication that it had been taken up in any way by the president or Secretary of War Baker.

Will Fill the Camps.
The first increment will fill all the training areas—sixteen national guard camps and sixteen national army cantonments—to capacity and there will be a surplus of men beside those assigned to the regular army.

The regulars are now 12,000 above full authorized war strength by voluntary enlistment and the national guard is in a similar situation.

Training facilities already are taxed to make ready for the front men now available and it is regarded as very unlikely that organization of an additional 500,000 men of the national army can be begun until the early spring of 1918. Neither quarters nor personnel to train the force will be available before that time.

New Draft Regulations.
There probably will be some amended draft regulations based on actual experience with the first increment and some amendments in the law may be thought desirable by congress. It is possible that some provision will be made whereby all the sons of one family will not be taken. A new definition of the status of married men may be one of the things acted upon.

President Wilson's recent letter to Senator Weeks is taken by many to indicate a feeling that a more liberal policy may be found desirable.

At present under regulations a condition of actual dependency must be established to obtain exemption. The condition of marriage in itself is not

WAR WILL RAPE FROM CHURCHES ALL THE ORGANS

Paris, Aug. 22.—Bohemian papers announce, says a dispatch to the Paris Agency from Basle, that Austrian churches as well as organ builders have been notified that all organ pipes in all churches of the monarchy will soon be requisitioned to fill the needs of war industries.

SET MACHINERY IN MOTION FOR A FOOD CENSUS

Washington, Aug. 22.—The department of agriculture set in motion today the machinery for taking a nationwide census of the food supply. The survey, including 100 different food stuffs, will register supplies on farms, in warehouses and stores, and even in family larders.

A preliminary census of eighteen of the principal commodities will be taken within the next month, and a complete survey will follow after the season's crops are gathered.

GERMANS BUSY WITH MEXICANS

Newspaper Propaganda Has

IGNORANT BELIEVE TALES OF CONQUEST

Better Classes of Mexicans
Not Influenced by the Diligent Teutons.

Mexico City, Aug. 22.—Friends of Germany are conducting in Mexico newspapers propaganda against the United States, but up to the present time the efforts have failed of their purpose insofar as the better educated and influential classes of Mexico are concerned.

There is no reason to believe that it has had no effect on men in public life, those associated with the government or the high officers of the army, but it seems certain that the German campaign has exerted a certain influence over the uneducated Mexicans.

The tone followed has had for its end the convincing of the more ignorant classes that the friendly advances of the United States are not to be trusted and that that country is steadfast in the aim of overthrowing the sovereignty of Mexico and seizing for its own either by economic means or by force the territory between the Rio Grande and Panama.

The Germans also have made strong efforts to spread the belief that the allies are in desperate straits for men, ships and money and that the ultimate victory of the central powers is assured. Special efforts have been made to influence the students of the universities and technical schools in and around the capital and the younger officers of the army. The Mexican student body always has mixed freely in politics and takes itself very seriously.

So far as is known H. von Eckhardt, the German minister, and his immediate subordinates aloof from this propaganda, the direction of which it is understood is in the hands of Lubeck or von Lubeck, a wealthy retired German merchant.

SWITZERLAND AT PEACE HAS WAR MEASURES

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 22.—The federal council yesterday chose October 1 as the definite date when the bread card system will be introduced in Switzerland. The daily consumption will be limited for the time, being 250 grammes per person plus 500 grammes of flour monthly. Even biscuits and cakes will hereafter be purchasable only with bread cards. The council also took measures to reduce the coal consumption especially through the conservation of electrical energy. Hereafter all mechanical work dependent upon coal must be authorized by the federal government of public economy. Each canton is expected to save coal by early closing of theaters, moving picture and public establishments. The sale of warm food is interdicted after 8 p. m.

LINCOLN'S OLD COUNTY MAKES A PERFECT SCORE

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—La Rue county, Kentucky, the birth place of Abraham Lincoln, made a perfect record in the draft, according to the official list received here by the district board. La Rue county's quota for the national army was 132 men. Only 132 were examined. None claimed exemption and not one failed to pass the physical examination.

This is in line with the price fixed by President Wilson. Other dealers will make similar cuts at once, it was said. It was estimated the reductions will cut Chicago's coal bill by $30,000,000. In making its announcement the Consumers company, through Fred W. Upham, the president, gave the following cuts on prices of indicated grades: Hooking Valley lump, from $7.75 to

Meanwhile the conflict continued about Lens though apparently greatly diminished intensity, with the Canadians still holding the Germans off from the positions which they had gained in the southwestern part of the city yesterday, and at the same time clinging tenaciously to the newly gained posts in the southern section. Fierce hand to hand fighting continued late into the night especially in the northwest portion, which lies be-

LEADERS CLASH IN FINAL GAME OF THE SERIES

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Unfavorable weather conditions for the final game of the series confronted the Boston and Chicago clubs in the race for the American league championship. A light rain fell during the night and the weather bureau predicted showers for this afternoon. Chicago is three full games in the lead today, having won 74 and lost 45, while Boston had 69 victories and 46 lost games to its credit. After today's game the leaders will not meet again until September 21, when the Chicago team goes to Boston for the final series of the season. Boston is seven games ahead of Cleveland, which is third in the race and baseball managers predict that the contest for the championship from this time on will be between Chicago and Boston unless there is a radical reverse of form among some of the clubs.

CADORNA TAKES 13,000 ENEMIES IN GREAT DRIVE

Italian Commander Reports Fresh Suc-
cesses All Along the Line
North of Gorizia.

IT IS ITALY'S GREATEST OFFENSIVE

Rome, Aug. 22.—More than 13,000 Austro-German prisoners have been captured by the Italians in their offensive on the Isonzo front, the Italian department announced today. The Italians also have taken 30 guns.

General Cadorna reports the Italians have gained new successes along the whole battle line. North of Gorizia the operations are proceeding regularly. To the south the struggle is localizing, especially on the Carso front.

The present offensive is on a vaster scale than any previous one. It was so arranged that, beginning lightly, it increased steadily and rapidly until a hurricane of shells was falling. Then it suddenly ceased, a squadron of aeroplanes in advance of the assaulting troops forming the first line, using their machine guns on the Austrians at short range. Many prisoners were made deaf by the violence of the detonations. They had believed their positions quite impregnable.

VIENNA ADMITS DEFEAT.

Vienna, Tuesday, Aug. 21.—Via London, Aug. 22.—The new attack of the Italians has forced back the Austrian line at some points, the war office announces, and the village of Selo, on the Carso plateau, has been lost. The Austrians claim to have taken more than 5,600 prisoners.

GERMANS GAIN AND LOSE.

Paris, Aug. 22.—The Germans made a violent counter attack last night on the Verdun front, west of the Meuse. They penetrated the French lines at points in their attempts to re-capture the ground taken from them in the French offensive but the war office announces they were driven out.

GERMAN DRIVE IN RUSSIA.

Summary of the Day's War News

Another of the rapid succession of blows which the British and French are striking at various points along the Franco-Belgian front fell this morning on the Germans in the region of Ypres where the British were held up last week in their drive in conjunction with the French forces to the north. At dawn the British advanced over the fiercely contested field near Langemark and Frezenberg. No details have been received thus far from the battle, which is being fought over a section strongly organized by the Germans with concrete redoubts and machine guns. The importance of these positions is shown by the desperate counter attacks last week by the Germans after the Irish troops had made considerable headway. Missing great numbers of men the Germans drove back the Irish after one of the most bitter engagements.

Counter attacks during the night failed to shake the British from their new position about Lens and further gains at some points are reported officially from London in which Germans last night continued their efforts to recapture ground gained in the new French offensive on the Verdun front. Heavy counter attacks were made on both sides of the Meuse

London, Aug. 22.—German airships made a raid off the Yorkshire coast last night, it is announced officially. So far as has been ascertained the damage inflicted was small.

The announcement follows:

"Enemy airships, in numbers not definitely ascertained, appeared off the Yorkshire coast in northern England, on the North sea, last night. One of the raiders attacked the mouth of the Humber and was fired on by anti-aircraft guns. She dropped some bombs, then made off to sea. 'The damage so far reported is slight. One man was injured.'"

GET GERMAN PLANES.

London, Aug. 22.—Ten German airplanes approached the English coast in the county of Kent today, the British war office announces. Two of the raiding machines were brought down.

Bombs were dropped at Dover and Margate. Three persons were killed and two injured. The statement says the raiders were unable to penetrate far inland.

An air raid warning was issued in London this morning. 'About an hour after the announcement 'all clear' was made, indicating that the raiders had been driven off.

REPORT ON KENTISH RAID.

The announcement issued by Lord French, the commander in chief of the home forces, says: "The enemy airplanes approached the Kentish coast, near Ramsgate, about 10:15 a. m. Being met and heavily engaged by machines of the royal flying corps, and royal naval air service, and also by gun fire from anti-aircraft guns, the raiders were unable to penetrate inland.

"A small party traveled west to Margate, but then turned homeward. The remainder skirted the coast to the south as far as Dover. Bombs were dropped at Dover and at Margate. Casualties reported up to the present were three persons killed and two injured. The material damage was slight. Two enemy machines were brought down by anti-aircraft fire and by our own airplanes."

MACHINIST NEAR ASPHYXIATION

Charles F. Knothe Falls and Disconnects Tube of a Gas Stove.

Charles F. Knothe, of 1451 Summit street, a machinist by trade and well known in the city, was found unconscious in the bath room at his home about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. When he entered the room he fell, striking his head and rendering himself unconscious, disconnecting in the fall the rubber tube leading to the water heater and allowing the gas to escape into the room. Fortunately one of his daughters, who was in the house at the time, discovered her father and summoned assistance in time to prevent asphyxiation. He is resting easily today and will soon recover from the effects of the gas. Mr. Knothe has been suffering for two weeks and weakness, as a result of the illness, is thought to have been the cause of the fall. Mr. Knothe has lived in Fort Wayne many years and is well known among the shopmen. He was foreman of the mechanical department of the Electric works when R. T. McDonald was the head of the concern. C. H. Knothe, machinist at the Pennsylvania shops, who is a son of C. F. Knothe, is off duty on account of the condition of his father.

DOING AN IMMENSE BUSINESS.

Men connected with the sales department of S. F. Bowser & Company in various parts of the country, who are here to confer with the management, report an unprecedented amount of business, stating that the volume in their territory up to the present exceeds the business of the entire year of 1916. Among those present this week are A. B. Carlgren, city manager of the Chicago office; H. C. Murdock, Chicago salesman; Christie and E. G. Cough, of the Toronto factory and G. D. Wolford, Chicago salesman. L. P. Murry, the Bowser mid-western sales manager, is also present.

TEST CAR ON NICKEL PLATE.

A dynamometer car belonging to the N. Y. C. is being used in making tests on the Nickel Plate this week. It was in operation between Bellevue and Cleveland a few days and is now on the Fort Wayne division, running in and out of Fort Wayne. This car shows the pulling power of the locomotive at various points on the line and by its use the necessity for grade reduction at different points is located. The Pennsylvania has a car of this description in constant use on the lines west of Pittsburgh.

DUDLO TROLLEY PARTY.

The Dudlo club has arranged for a trolley party to Robison park and a dance at the dance hall for Friday night, August 31, which is expected to be a most enjoyable affair. Tickets have been issued and are now being disposed of by a committee consisting of Jerome Kohrman, Lawrence Michael, Leo Bohne, Earl Stokely, Charles Trott, Edward Snyder, Henry Marshens and the Misses Lillian Slinger, Anna Reiman, Ella May Brunson and Anna Morris.

THEY HAD GOOD TIME.

Miss Flora Bloembke, of the Wayne Knitting Mills; Miss Flora Limbach, of 1118 Park avenue; Miss Cella Miller and Miss Edith Volkening, of the Wayne Knitting Mills, who composed a jolly party which left a week ago for Buffalo, returned home last night. They also visited Niagara Falls, Put-In-Bay and Cleveland, stopping a day or two in each place. "We just had a lovely time," is the manner in which one of the young ladies expressed her views of the trip.

INJURIES QUITE SEVERE.

Hugh Seltzer, the Pennsylvania fireman thrown from his engine Monday night at Columbia City, has been brought here and is in the hands of the local surgeon. His wounds are more serious than at first believed, consisting of bad cuts and bruises on the face. A deep gash entirely separated his lip.

IN THE COAST ARTILLERY.

One of the most contented and happy patriots in the service of the United States in the fight for "world democracy" is Earl S. Ruffner, a member of the Sixth company, coast artillery, now stationed at Fort Depue, Delaware. Earl enlisted April 23 and in all his letters to his parents and other relatives he expresses contentment with his lot, but anxious to see "a little active service against the Germans." "This is the life for me," he wrote recently when describing the camp and his surroundings. Earl is 18 years old, is the son of Conductor Samuel Ruffner, of the Pennsylvania. When he enlisted he was serving the Pennsylvania in the capacity of fireman, but previous to that service was employed for a while as a caller. He is of magnificent physique, being six feet, two inches tall, as straight as an arrow and weighing upwards of 180 pounds. William A. Ruffner, of the General Electric works, brother to Earl, and L. M. Dunton, also of the Electric works, visited Earl at the camp last Sunday.

OTHER RELATIVES HE EXPRESSES CONTENTMENT WITH HIS LOT, BUT ANXIOUS TO SEE "A LITTLE ACTIVE SERVICE AGAINST THE GERMANS."

He was attended at Columbia City by Dr. D. B. Linville, surgeon at that point for the company.

BUSINESS HUSTLERS HERE.

A number of passenger and freight business getters are in the city today, calling upon patrons and local agents. Among the visitors are John T. Crawford, of the Rock Island; W. J. Fack, of the Southern Pacific, and J. P. Gehrey, of the "Soo," traveling passenger agents, and J. McFadden, of the N. C. & St. L., and H. P. Bolt, of the Missouri Pacific, traveling freight agents.

DIDN'T LOSE A FOOT.

Nickel Plate brakeman Howard Wolford, who was recently taken home from the hospital, is getting along nicely and will not be permanently crippled. He had his left foot crushed at Stony Island some time ago and for awhile it was feared the member would have to be amputated. Dr. J. Frank Dinnen, who attended Mr. Wolford, says he will recover.

KNOCKED AUTO FROM TRACKS.

Westbound freight train No. 7521, on the Pennsylvania, struck and knocked an automobile from the tracks at Van Wert at 11:49 o'clock Tuesday night. L. A. Heffner, of that city, was in the machine and escaped injury. The automobile was only slightly scratched and was able to proceed under its own power, when righted. The escape of Mr. Heffner is considered miraculous.

DAVID RALDY IN HOSPITAL.

David Raldy, the retired Pennsylvania passenger engineer, is in St. Joseph hospital, where he was operated upon for strangulated hernia yesterday. His condition is said to be favorable, though for awhile yesterday grave fears were entertained. John Raldy, a machinist in the Pennsylvania shops, was summoned to the bedside of his father yesterday.

NEW INSPECTOR AT "LIGHTS."

E. L. Haifner, chief inspector of the apparatus department of the General Electric works, added a new inspector H. E. Murray to his force. Mr. Murray will look after the work of the apprentice department, which is under Raymond Doyle. He came from Cleveland.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT ON FIRE HOUSE BIDS

Unsettled State of Budget Causes Delays All Along Line.

All along the line the city departments are unsettled in their planning work and plans because the city budget for next year, involving the expending of the money for each branch of service, is virtually hanging fire. It will not be known definitely what will be done with the figures presented by the mayor and the city controller until the council takes final action on next Tuesday night.
Action was deferred in the matter of passing on bids for the proposed No. 9 engine house Wednesday morning. The board of works members will not take the final step until they are sure of the fate of the budget. It is thought at this time, however, that the building of the Winter street station will be allowed.

TESTING WELL.

Swinney Park Spring Appears to Be Good Water Source.

It appears that the Swinney park spring, known as one of the purest water sources in this part of the state, will be a permanent source of city water. Its present supply is not diminished by the rapid pumping of a big gas engine, which had been hammering away for two days.
The well is being drawn on to the extent of 150 gallons of water per minute. To engineers it seems that the spring will continue to give water at that rate without being damaged. It is planned to attach the well to the city water supply within a few days.

PARK MEN COMING.

Indiana Association to Meet Here Next Month.

Colonel D. N. Foster, secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Association of Park Officers, is preparing the program for the second annual convention of that organization, which convenes here on September 15 and 17. The sessions are expected to be held in the Anthony hotel. Forty leading park officials of the state are expected to be entertained here during the two days.

EXCAVATING FOR GRADE.

Excavation for the pavement of Wall street is being carried on Wednesday by the Moellering Construction company. The street is to be paved from Riedmiller avenue to Broadway. The process will probably take two weeks.

NOT POSTPONED.

The band concert arranged for Wednesday for Friday will be held as formerly announced. The Citizen's band will furnish music. It is the Jefferson drum corps social, which was announced for Wednesday for Friday night, which will be postponed until next week.

READY FOR WORK.

Work of improving the driveways through Swinney park will start on Thursday morning. Adolph Janicka, the new park superintendent, has arranged to have the effort of shaping up the drive and oiling the road surface carried on as rapidly as possible. The improvement is expected to be finished next week.

NOTHING KNOWN HERE YET ABOUT NEW LOAN

Allen County Chairman Has Received No Information on Bonds.

Nothing official concerning the next issue of liberty bonds has as yet been received in Fort Wayne, according to Charles H. Worden, president of the First and Hamilton National bank, who was chairman of the Allen county liberty loan committee. No communication regarding either the size of the bond issue or the quota which this county may be expected to fill has been received.
Mr. Worden said that it was his belief, although he had no definite knowledge of the next loan, that it would not be made until either September or October, the idea probably being followed that time should be given to get the first loan entirely paid up. The last installment on the first loan are payable the last of this month and Mr. Worden expressed the opinion that no action would be taken toward floating the next bond issue until that time, at any rate.
The only local news concerning the loan so far has come through the Commercial club, which has received requests to advertise the second issue through its letterheads and also urge its members to do the same on bill heads and letters of their own business.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1917.

TO BE ESCAPED IF POSSIBLE.

In general, Governor Goodrich's policy to await the compulsion of events before calling the Indiana legislature together in extra session is to be commended. If a session can be dispensed with, surely on many accounts it ought to be. It will spare the state a small item of expense and possible contingencies more to be escaped even than expense.

The primary purpose of a special session, if one shall be called, will be to deal with the coal situation in the state. Since it now is clear that the federal government has in design executive measures that will solve the fuel question for the whole country, it seems probable that Indiana will be relieved of necessity for recourse to her own ways and means for dealing with the problem of Indiana coal production, distribution and prices.

It is much to be hoped that matters will fall out entirely this wise. It will avail little that leaders of both political parties get together in a resolve to keep partisan politics out of the legislature. To hold fast by such a goodly resolve will be quite another matter. If it ever has been done in any legislature, history is silent upon the fact and we doubt if history can be deemed guilty of an oversight so flagrant of an incident so exceptional. The close party vision in the senate would be quite apt to breed differences of a partisan sort, while there would scarcely fail to be survivals of the feeling engendered in the winter session.

Besides this, it is doubtful if there could be kept out of the session considerations of certain issues not in the usual sense partisan, but nevertheless calculated strongly to create sharp cleavages, a heated state of mind, stubborn contentions and all the obstinacies that make for deadlocks and a prolonged sitting. Just at this time there are reasons which supervene to forbid the injection of radical questions of politics into a session of the legislature and into the general mind of the electorate. The one paramount business of the state, as it is of the whole country, is to strengthen itself in every way for the war in which the nation is engaged. Whatever may positively or potentially have power to weaken, hamper or embarrass the government and the state in any effort purposed to equip the country to fight and to bring the war to a speedy and victorious conclusion ought to be avoided.

The governor will disappoint no very great number of the people of Indiana if, in the event a special session shall turn out not to be compulsive, he decline to convoke the general assembly at this time.

CONSERVATION OF FOOD ANIMALS.

Live hogs commanded twenty dollars a hundred in the Chicago stockyards yesterday. This price, that is without precedent, cannot be ascribed to any manipulation of the markets. The price of hogs has been steadily advancing for some time and in recent weeks rapidly toward the peak that was attained yesterday. The probability is that hogs will yet go much higher and continue to advance until the demand for dressed pork shall have been diminished by the prohibitive character of prices to the consumer.

A day or two ago the press of the country carried a story from Washington stating upon the authority of Food Director Hoover that a meat famine is coming upon the whole world. It is not to be doubted, sensational as the story may appear. For years the world's production of beef and pork has failed to keep pace with demand. In this country it is notoriously the fact that the ratio of production to population has steadfastly diminished, while domestic consumption has joined with foreign demand to enlarge the call upon America for flesh foods. What is true of beef cattle is true of hogs and sheep. And there is an aggravation of the matter by the increasing folly of increasing the consumption of veal and lamb. The slaughter of food animals that have not matured is not alone to blame for the decline in the production of beef and mutton, but is a determinable factor. It is now stated on authority that immense numbers of young hogs are going to market in all parts of the country, growers yielding to the unprecedented temptation of prices and parting with young pigs that ought to be permitted to double their weight before going to market.

In short, we are killing in a very literal way the goose that lays the golden egg. Demand for veal and lamb on a huge scale prevents reproduction of cattle and sheep. This means a progressive decline of the production of these food animals, while to this evil is now added another that it is feared may result in greatly curtailing the production of pork in the country.

Altogether apart from the necessities put critically upon us by the fact of the great war we are in, the conservation of food animals and some sort of an enforced policy of increase must be adopted or there will come a time when the vegetarian diet will cease to be less a matter of hygienic conviction, shallow faddism or the like and more a matter of blunt necessity. Scarcity of food animals can only spell high prices for flesh foods. Such prices today seem a criminal enormity and it may be that there is in the ruling scale some such element, but there is no denying the scarcity here and in all the world and the demand here and in all the world.

The government at Washington and the governments of all the states can address themselves to no more critical domestic problem than that which is embraced by the mounting costs of flesh foods and the certain consequence that increasing scarcity will wring the people of the land yet more ruthlessly than any one now thinks.

GETTING AT IT.

President Wilson has fixed the price of coal at the mines. There is, as it appears, a horizontal cut of about a dollar a ton from the prices agreed upon some weeks ago by the coal operators in Washington, when appeal was made to their patriotic sentiments. Nothing came of the understanding—partly because the secretaries of war and the navy denounced the price fixed as still excessive and unfair.

President Wilson has put the prices down where it makes possible at once a profit all along the line for coal interests and a square deal to the consumer. But the consumer is to be left to nobody's tender mercies. That will be seen to. The next step in the exercise of federal control over fuel will be to fix prices for the middlemen and for the retailers. Profits will be assured, but excesses will be barred. Profiteering in the coal business, as well as in the food business, is to be strictly tabooed in the United States of America during the war, if federal statutes and a determined administration of the law can together compass that much for the common good.

It may be that the coal barons will not cooperate; will not sell their coal at the price fixed; will refuse, even, to have any coal to sell. In that event, the authority that can fix prices of coal produced will doubtless be found or readily can be made ample also to mine coal. And farther along, should the need be, the government may be obliged to turn to merchandising. We don't know what sort of a merchant Uncle Sam may turn out to be if he essays that pursuit, but no doubt he can make out fairly well as an emergency coal dealer.

To the imperishable glory of their defense of Verdun the French are now adding an effulgent renown by routing their foes from ground taken in the overwhelming dash of the initial assault. Verdun has been amply discounted in strategic value during the past eighteen months, but the French are not to be blamed for hammering away and getting back what belongs to them. Besides it helps a heap on some other segments of that tortuous line from the sea to the Vosges. Verdun is never going to be the blazing jewel in the crown prince's bonnet that it was designed to be. When the war is over and the German people realize and appreciate at what appalling cost Wilhelm consented that his son and heir should try to win an immortal military name at Verdun, there will be hot chasing of some one to the tall grass on the outside of the German frontier.

Government control and perhaps operation of the coal industry of the country may turn out so nice that it will just go right along, horrent socialism and all, to the peace, satisfaction, comfort and pecuniary betterment of everybody. There must be a prodigious volume of inconceivably dense bone in the dome of the coal baron's head if he cannot see some harrowing possibilities in permitting the government to seize his business at a time when superior efficiencies of government are imperative and it can make its show at mining coal.

It probably may be left to the day in which the evil shall appear to denounce the forthcoming special session of the legislature for its partisan performances. Maybe there ain't a gain' to be none.

"Face, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

"OH, MY MOTHER, DEAR AMERICA!"

By the brazen gates, at the ends of the earth, my sons go down and stand; And they push the sullen and savage hordes of the Hun across the land; By night and by day my hosts go down in great ships that plow the sea; And ever my flag broods over them, on that march to Calvary.

My serried troops like autumn flames flash down to meet the foe; My honor rests upon the breasts of those who longed to go; My countless planes like whirlwinds wheel through spaces that rive the breath; My far-flung lines sweep over the earth—my boats ride down to death.

Like sands of the sea, like leaves in the storm, like dust in the desert way, My strong men plant the banners afar, and when I command they stay.

But oh, the mother heart of me tears, as I think of my sons on the foam, And, oh, how I long for these children of mine—how I wish I could call them back home!

How I wish I could call my brood to my side, from the reeking trench and mire, How I wish I could bring my legions back to sit at my board and fire,

How I long for the numberless faces of those whom I love and whose hearts call to me— But I've set them there to make a prayer to the God of democracy!

"Oh, my mother, dear America," their voices roll and toss;

"The task you set is red and wet, and wet and red is the cross; There are three hard trees upon the hill, and graves there are three behind,

But we shall serve on Golgotha till we save the whole of mankind!"

Ay, I've set them there in the wide world's hate, these lads that are life of my life; I have bid them stand to their task like gods, and to bear the burden of strife;

I have ordered them up to the thunderbolt the barbarous Hun has hurled; And when they win, I, the mother of men, will give to my sons the world!

GERMANY'S YELP PROVES THAT EMBARGO IS UNCLE SAM'S SHARPEST WEAPON

Uncle Sam's Most effective war move has been the embargo on all foodstuffs, feed, fuel and steel shipments.

This has alarmed Germany more than the threat of a million United States soldiers in France.

Germany knows months must elapse before we can transport a big army. But the effect of the embargo has been immediate in cutting German supplies.

As a result, a backfire of German propaganda here claims the embargo violates the rights of neutrals, for which the United States has always stood. The wall of the German sympathizer drowns the protests of the neutrals, nominally the sole sufferers.

The administration position, however, is that there has been no change toward neutrals. As a belligerent this country must see that supplies necessary for her and her allies are provided first. Any excess is available for neutrals, nothing for the enemy.

There is the rub. The principal imports of Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway the last three years have been to maintain not life, but prosperity.

Exports to Holland have been principally feed for the great herds whose butter and cheese has been sold to Germany at immense profit. Exports to Sweden have been supplies for factories to maintain her profitable commerce with Germany. The situation has been similar with Denmark and Norway.

In recognition of neutral rights the exports council, enforcing the embargo, is investigating the actual needs in all these countries adjacent to Germany's policy.

We are ready to sell them any of our surplus they may need for themselves. But we are not willing to sell supplies to Germany, through middlemen neutrals, simply to maintain the prosperity of neutral trade!

Preliminary reports indicate these neutrals do not depend for their livelihood upon any considerable imports. Cutting off imports will end prosperity, but not jeopardize existence.

Holland, for instance, without heavy imports, of concentrated cattle feeds, will be unable to maintain her present great dairy herds. But half her cattle products, and could possibly be maintained without importing feed.

On this very point, the Dutch in protesting against the embargo, have threatened to kill great quantities of cattle and sell the meat to Germany.

This government, while unwilling to see meat thus turned over to Germany, does not take this threat seriously.

"One live cow in Holland is worth three dead ones, so far as Germany is concerned," one official in Washington explains. "One good Dutch-Holstein will send into Germany her own weight in butter fat each year, say nothing of cheese and other products."

Germany has taken notice. Unable longer to get her normal supplies through these neutral middlemen, she sent up a great shout about the "rights" of neutrals which, she interprets it, is the right of a neutral to buy from one belligerent and sell to another what the belligerents will not sell between themselves.

Secretary Daniels has broken off all relations with the Navy league, as at present offered, on the ground of what he speaks of as "the slender and false statement of the Navy league, reflecting upon the honesty of the naval administration and the integrity of the officers of the navy."

The league had charged that the investigation into the recent explosion in the Mare Island navy yard had been blocked by labor interests. This is the charge that the secretary do-noted as false. The country is informed that the investigation is still in progress, and that there never was any thought except of pushing it vigorously. The least that the Navy league can do, it seems to us, is to tell who is the authority for its statement. For the country wants the facts about the explosion, and also about the Navy league. Such a serious charge as this ought not to be publicly made except on the best authority. Such voluntary organizations as the league ought to be careful about what they say or do, for they are in a sense a part of the government. If the league made a false charge it, of course, under its present officers, can not be permitted to have relations with the department. If, however, the charge is true, the department is deserving of the severest criticism. It is for the men denounced by the secretary to make good, if they can.

Mrs. Barbara Klotz, 2417 Oliver street, knows the particular brand of swear words which Arthur Goebel, for a time a tenant in her house, used upon entering his home, she told in police court Wednesday morning. That is why Mrs. Klotz knew that it was Arthur who broke the glass from the front door and smashed the floor with a curtain pole, she testified. She did not see her tenant in the act of damaging her property, the woman admitted, but the voice and the phrases were Arthur's.

The several neighbors who had been summoned as witnesses had heard only occasional crashes and now and then a turbulent vocal disorder. It could not be proved that Arthur Goebel wrought the destruction of which Mrs. Klotz complained.

Goebel explained in his own behalf that the trouble was all because he had

The case, which charged Goebel with malicious destruction of property, was continued indefinitely.

Steel With Steel.

Jess Roehers, colored, who lives in the 200 block on Melita, spread an evil story to the effect that Elmer Fox, 26, colored, had been acting "Jack, the Ripper," about Roehers' premises. Fox heard the scandalous tale. He sought restitution on Tuesday evening, just as darkness was gathering.

Fox called Roehers around the corner of Roehers' dwelling. The fray opened after three hurried sentences had been uttered by the two men. Police were called after both men had tested the steel of their keen jack-knives.

Roehers walked with difficulty when he appeared in police court Wednesday morning. He had felt Fox's keen blade along his prominent ribs, he admitted in a weakened voice. Fox bore a white patch across his left cheek. The bandage covered the path of Roehers' knife.

Fox admitted that he had approached the Roehers home with his knife opened in his pocket. He was talking no chances he said. He also corroborated the story that he ran away after Roehers steel had traced a neat line across his face. Fox was Schrader said he believed the sign had been moved and that there was little room for making a turn to the right. He was released.

FIVE VIOLIN GIRLS.

Charming Bit of Harmony and Dance on New Palace Bill.

The Five Violin Girls, a quintet of musical ladies in song, dance and instrumental numbers will feature the bill for the week-end at the New Palace, opening Thursday afternoon. These five melodious maidens play a half score of instruments and intersperse several vocal numbers in their act. Wellington Cross, formerly of the team of Cross and Josephine and until recently a starred favorite with the "Go-To-It" company, will present an arrangement of songs and stories, while others on the bill include Harold DuKane and company in their own numbers about futuristic dancing, Daniels and Walter, the Yankee soldier, designers of nonsense, Anderson and Goines, black face funsters, and Love and Wilbur, the thrilling aerial team. The bill which closes tonight has given the New Palace a new opening record to shoot at. It is featured by the exquisite Marmeline Sisters in their wholly delightful interpretive dancing act; the great jazz act, the Tennessee Ten; Demarest and Collette in musical novelties and not comedy; W. S. Harvey and company in the "House Upside Down," in which Harvey juggles everything from a feather duster to a bed, and Dorothy Kenton, the girl with the fanjo.

AT THE GRAND.

Today the Grand theater presents the first feature film, entitled "The Test," featuring Clara Kimball Young and Harry Northrup. The Favorite Film Features include only the classics of film productions that were made three and four years ago and the players who appear in them are among the greatest on the screen today. Certainly there can be no more valuable stars than such names as Clara Kimball Young, Edith Storey, Sidney Drew, John Bunny, Norma Talmadge, Kate Price, Wallie Van, Ralph Ince and Rosemary Theby, and they are but a few of the famous whose followers are legion.

The management of the Grand has arranged booking for six weeks in advance and each Wednesday and Thursday some of the above stars will appear on the program. Also arrangements have been completed to begin a new serial, entitled "The Fighting Trail." Watch for the date.

Velvet is Coming to Town in High Favor

Velvet, the fabric of the rich and rare and royal, is the favored material for suits, separate coats and wraps, evening gowns, afternoon toilettes and above everything hats, capping a velvet climax.

Already coming velvets cast their shadows above and many fashionable feather brains are aborning under August suns and hats of velvet. Black velvet tams, draped turbans of vivid cerise, emerald green or royal purple velvet, usually adorned with a silken tassel, and large broad brimmed velvet shapes in black, wine or purple velvet are the most ubiquitous. Straws no longer show which way the fashionable whirls go—it's the velvet lid that's on.

As for the gowns and suits and wraps of velvet the advance models now being shown certainly have much in the way of beauty to offer as an extension of their flying in the face of conservation and economy in war times. Day after gorgeous hues, nor the divergence of facile fingers to knitting, bandage rolling, canning, gardening and munition making to have lessened the hand embroidery with which they are adorned.

Smart and cunning little trotteur suits have short box coats of velvet, preferably black, and short rather tight plain skirts either of the same or of check, striped or plaid serge. White

Interlacing Belt Sets Off New Coat

By BETTY BROWN.

This new model coat retains all the comfort and warm usefulness of a straightline box coat, with an increased charm of line, further enhanced by distinctive style touches. The interlacing belt is the latest. The buttons on cuffs and back of belt, and the fur trimmings, are all cleverly designed to relieve the plain effect.

satin waistcoats buttoned up high and manfully complete a decidedly swagger outfit.

The wonderful and colorful velvet evening wraps of last season will again enwrap your shoulders this year, colored anduffed deep in fur and lined in exotically hued satins. Loose separate realm of the velvet seems to lie below the deep fur bands around their hems in the more somber tones of gunmetal, black, tete de nigre, Russian green and navy will vie with the garments of all fur.

Even in negligees and tea gowns velvet will play its regal part and loose mantels of pastel tinted velvet over inner robes of flounced lace will brighten many a hearth and home. Long, loose Turkish coats of velvets in Oriental colors, caught in with cords and tassels of silver or gold and worn with full Turkish trousers of black satin will keep many a tired business man at home nights.

Electric Fans Reduce Prostrations by Heat

A breeze feels cool and refreshing on a hot day because the moving air coming in contact with the surface of the skin permits the heat to escape from the body by the process of evaporation.

For this reason an electric fan used indoors is one of the best preventives of heat prostration or more minor discomfort.

Every normal adult requires about 2,500 cubic feet of air per hour. Given this amount there is no reason why one should suffer unduly from heat.

Those engaged in active labor or indulging in moderate exercise, however, will need about one-half more of this amount of air and if during violent times as much as when at rest.

But added to the quantity there must be quality as well if one is to keep cool. The chief requirements of present ventilating science are cleanliness of the air supply, gentle motion and temperature and humidity adjusted to the ordinary exercise of the occupant of the room.

Many people are prejudiced against air in motion. In spite of this common belief science knows that only a constant draft of cold air, such as will chill the skin, is to be avoided.

In fact, a gentle draft is one of the best friends the seeker after health can have.

Even vitiated air that has been set in motion again can be rebathed by the lungs with benefit to the entire system. A lack of motion affects unfavorably the circulation of the blood beneath the skin and this prevents normal evaporation and loss of heat.

Rest, sleep and work in the open air, if possible. There is no reason to fear night air, although many people do, even in summertime. As Florence Nightingale once remarked: "At night there was nothing else to breathe but night air."

PINK PANNE SAILORS ARE HARD TO RESIST.

If you are not interested in rushing the season by covering your brain with a new felt tent, go buy one of those lovely blushing pink panne sailors, with nervous brim of crepe georgette that flutters and sighs. These panne things are beautiful enough for the angels to wear. In turquoise they remind one of princesses in fairy tales. In faint daffodil tint they cast a golden glow, and worn with a frock of snow white organdy, dotted Swiss, embroidered batiste or any of the numerous new, they are perfectly topping top-pieces.

Fashion Designers and Military Ideas

The high officers of the fashion government can't unchain themselves from the military shackles. On many of the imported models there is this or that detail that suggests the uniform of the warrior. Also, certain models are named after battle places and officers. There is the Pershing coat, the Keweenaw cape and the Jean d'Arc mantle. Even coat frocks show military designs applied to collars and cuffs. Women do not care for military effects and for that reason the lines and decorations are merely suggestive. We feel that only the soldier is entitled to insignias of glory.

Dress interest at the present time is centered in separate coats. They always troop in ahead of the winter suit and frocks for cold weather wear. Silverton is a beautiful new fabric, as is also the new montague, a novelty weave which no doubt will displace the rather ancient velours de laine. The fancy pocket with its pouchiness and puffiness is being displaced by the flap patch—a result of war influences.

Furs that trim coats are of better grade than last year, when all manner of dyed pelts were utilized. Cheap pelts are the worst possible investment, and the inclination now is to have good skins or no skins at all. The fact that summer furs summered out inclines one to believe that interest for winter furs will be keen. And this is the time to make one's selection, before the stock is picked over and depleted.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR OWN FRENCH DRESSING

Three tablespoonfuls oil, one to three tablespoonfuls lemon juice or vinegar, one-fourth teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoonful pepper.

The ingredients for the dressing may be mixed and poured at once over the salad materials, which are then turned over and over until the dressing has been taken up by them; or the conditions, mixed with the oil, may be first used, then, after each leaf or separate piece has been thoroughly coated with the oil, the acid may be poured on and the salad turned over and over until the acid is evenly mixed throughout.

Neither French nor mayonnaise dressing should be strongly acid, and one tablespoonful of acid to three of oil is a good proportion in most salads. For fish and beets two tablespoonfuls of acid to three of oil would be preferred by many. Equal quantities of oil and acid are favored by people accustomed to using so-called "boiled dressings" or by those accustomed to eating vinegar on cucumbers or tomatoes. Tomatoes are mildly acid and it is a mistake to overpower this natural acid with a quantity of vinegar. A very little vinegar or lemon juice in a dressing will "give point" to (or bring out) the natural acid flavor of the tomato.

SERGE AND SATIN MAKE GOOD DRESS COMBINATION

In the fabric combinations on frocks for ordinary wear, serge and satin are good friends. And the designers have developed a sudden passion for the drop skirt. In the partnership of serge and satin we see the silky fabric utilized for the drop, and this is displayed by an arrangement of side openings in the serge encasement. Or the skirt proper is cut in battlement designs, vandykes or scallops, which are bound with folds of the satin. Twin skirt effects are rich in possibilities for decorative designs and no doubt will produce sufficient thrills, since suit and frock skirts have not amounted to much in the last few seasons, either in length, breadth, substance or sartorial splendor.

The lifting waistline on many of the new models almost blossoms into the Empire. It is supposed to be clever to have the high line at the back and the normal line in front, but this arrangement is one that must be handled with tact; one might almost say that it calls for the genial hand of genius. However, the season is yet young and inexperienced.

TWO NEW SHADES OF RED AND BLUE ARE OFFERED.

Bluebird blue and Indian red are two new colors as dashing as their names imply. Modistes and milliners are both using them, and both combine splendidly and harmoniously with beige and all the various shades. In georgette they are delicious and make up into cunning frocks for the rather grand afternoon social event. France is so electrified by the coming of our soldiers that the souls of the designers seem to have burst into song. The models they are sending over are gay and brighter, more fanciful and resplendent than any that have been produced since fateful August, 1914.

A Lanvin model belonging to the class of sunny attire shows a plaited skirt of beige colored georgette, with an over-robe, made very loose and "careless" of Indian red georgette embroidered in gold. A scalloped collar is not content to be only beige and red, so it is also blue and gold. Nothing sings about that, it takes the color of card and others the whole bloom of bill o' fare.

CITY MAY GROW PIGS

Mayor Would Solve Garbage Problem by Fattening Hogs.

COULD USE LAND HELD BY COUNTY

Porkers Might Go to Feed Soldiers at Fort Harrison.

Fort Wayne may go into the business of raising pigs. Mayor W. J. Hosey will suggest to the council committee and to the city controller that the fattening of pigs be the method employed to solve the garbage disposal problem. The mayor will lay definite plans for the establishment of a city "piggery" before the other officials at a session to be held later in the week.

Hundreds of pigs could be fattened and tons of garbage readily disposed of by the method of feeding up swine, the mayor points out. The porkers could be sold at a neat profit or a contract for furnishing meat for the soldiers at the nearest fort or cantonment could be entered into. The disposal of garbage might thereby be turned to a patriotic use, Mayor Hosey shows.

Use County Land.

The mayor proposes that consent be gained from the county commissioners for use of a large strip of land, owned by the county, and which stretches along the Grand Rapids tracks to the north of the city for the placing of the proposed piggery. He points out that excellent shipping facilities would be at hand and the land is not the best for grain cultivation.

The new scheme could be started into upon a modest scale at first, the mayor says. Eventually he thinks that hundreds of hogs could be kept on the "city farm" at a good profit to the municipality.

One man would be hired for caring for the swine. His salary would come out of the profits in disposing of the pigs. In turn one or two men could be taken from the present crematory force, as the present capacity of the plant would not need be maintained if many tons of waste was fed to the hogs each day. The crematory would be kept in operation, however, as there would be products from time to time which could not be used for the pigs.

Is Practical.

Mayor Hosey maintains that the plan of keeping a piggery in connection with the city is highly practical. Grand Rapids has used the scheme on a small scale for years, he shows. The Michigan city is now preparing to enlarge its piggery so as to completely supply the pork for one of the army cantonments, the mayor gleams from newspaper accounts.

Denver, Colo., uses a part of its garbage for fattening hogs. Columbus, O., follows the plan on a small scale.

An eastern city has just completed an investigation of the garbage disposal problem, the mayor states, and makes the report that the feeding of swine is one of the most economical and practical ways of getting rid of the waste.

Pigs will eat nearly all the garbage which comes from the city homes, the mayor points out. There would be much less waste than would come from trying to extract the grease from the refuse, he explains. The hogs would grow fat on most of the garbage now burned up, he states.

The pigs could be purchased from a part of the $26,000 set out in the budget for disposal of garbage, the mayor indicates. The herd could be added to as the profits from the sale of fattened pigs were realized, Mayor Hosey shows.

The mayor is against the plan of establishing a reduction plant here and especially to the scheme of allowing a corporation to assume the collection and disposal of garbage.

"To allow some company to take over the garbage problem would be for the city to shirk one of its duties," says the mayor. "If the officials will hearken to the hog raising plan we can care for our garbage in a most economical fashion and if the call comes we can serve our country by feeding her fighters."

WILL REPORT CASES TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Department of Justice Official Returns to Indianapolis.

J. A. Williamson, of the department of justice, U. S. A., has returned from Indianapolis after having been here several days conducting investigations which he will report to the United States district attorney.

A special investigation is being made of the case of Frank Koch, who is now held by the local police. Koch, as has been reported, came over to this country on one of the interned German vessels. He spent some time in Mexico and from there it is said went to California and has since been in various parts of the country, including New York city, Texas, Chattanooga, finally landing in this city, where he was apprehended.

No indication of what will be done in Koch's case can as yet be had.

CITY TO JOIN CHORUS OF WAR ECONOMY LAY

Council Follows Mayor Hosey in Charge on 1918 Budget.

Fort Wayne will help win the war and will tide over the embarrassment of losing $52,000 in liquor revenue by following a path of strict economy, Mayor W. J. Hosey told the council today in a charge on the budget figures for 1918, when the lawmakers met as a committee of the whole. Tuesday night. Casualties to the budget, as prepared by City Controller William Baade, amount to $26,150.

There will be no increase in the tax levy for next year if Mayor Hosey has his way, and the council remains in its present frame of mind. The program means, however, that there will be no new equipment furnished for the No. 3 engine house, and no new fire alarm building, and no new greenhouses for the park system.

Side With Mayor.

Councilmen joined with the mayor in cutting the figures made by Controller Baade, whenever the two of them disagreed in their estimates. The budget prepared by the controller was on the basis of a tax increase of thirteen cents while Mayor Hosey expects to keep the tax figures where they now stand.

"From every side there comes to our ears the song which urges war time economy," said Mayor Hosey in an address before the big committee. "I read that in some cities the electric lights are being burned only half time in order to save cost of maintenance. We should not waste a penny until the war has been prosecuted with glory to the forces of democracy. We should have a part in it's winning."

"And the matter of the non-descript legislation on the liquor question," the mayor went on. "We have lost $52,000 without any provision being made for getting back a portion of that revenue. Let us go without certain benefits and improvements rather than dig down into our pockets to pay a revenue deficit which the last legislature inflicted of its own sweet will. I am not speaking of the dry measure as a moral issue, but only as a poor way of placing cities on a war footing."

In defending his action in striking out several of the improvements proposed by the controller, Mayor Hosey stated that the present police call system, while badly worn, will take care of itself for another year. He believes the first alarm plant, as now in use, to be reasonably safe. He thinks the park greenhouses will stand for another year, although Col. D. N. Foster, in a brief talk to the council, said that an eight penny nail can be pushed into the rotting posts of the hot houses.

Defers Action.

Action on what are considered to be among the most important points of the budget was deferred until the regular council session, next Tuesday night. The garbage question will be settled at the next meeting as will the matter of the police and firemen's request for a raise in pay.

Several policemen and firemen attended the committee meeting and formally presented their claims for a living wage. Charles Harris, of the No. 3 engine house acted as spokesman for the fire fighters, and Patrolman Ward Hall told of the needs of the police. Baade claimed that wages in Fort Wayne for public safety workers are not up to other cities in the middle west. Communications in favor of the raise were read from C. A. Wilding, Will C. Ryan, Martin H. Luecke, H. C. Paul, S. M. Foster, F. H. Poole, O. N. Heaton and W. N. Ballou.

Ben Porsch, speaking for the machinists' union, of which there were several members present said that the action of firemen in asking a $15 raise and cutting the fire engine machinists off with but $2.50, is "an outrage against decency and humanity."

Item by Item.

The council committee took up the budget item by item. City Attorney Guy Colerick explained the amount of difference at each point where Mayor Hosey disagreed with the figures of the city controller. In all the mayor's numbers are $26,150 short of those presented by Controller Baade.

Councilman Korte leaped upon the first item presented. He moved that the $750 recently voted for stenographic hire for the law department be withdrawn. His motion was turned down.

From the garbage budget the mayor has cut but $950 from the entire account of $26,000. Councilman Hartman stated that he believes $15,000 can be saved by taking up some of the proposed reduction measures for the city garbage disposal.

Councilmen Keller, Schlebecker and Hartman were appointed on a committee to investigate the matter of garbage disposal and the request for an increase in pay for firemen and police, and to report at the regular council session.

Items in the controller's budget which were either eliminated at the mayor's request, or greatly reduced, are: Street maintenance and repairs, $2,000; horseshoeing, $200; assistants to city engineer, $400; sewer repair, hose cart, $800; city hall painting, $1,250; city hall supplies, $150; city hall lighting, $750; building inspector special fund, $500; fire-proof alarm station, $7,000; engine house No. 2, $3,500; and public lights cut, $2,000, left open; new alarm boxes, $300; motor engine house bedding, $100; motor house cart, $100; pumper, chemical and hose wagon for No. 3, $9,500; tractor for aerial ladder, No. 3, $5,500; parks, for greenhouses, $4,000.

LIEUT. GLADBACH RESIGNS.

The resignation of Lieutenant G. J. Gladbach has been accepted and William A. Boothby has been appointed junior clerk at the postoffice. Gladbach's resignation followed his appointment as a lieutenant in the army after having been at the reserve school at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Francis Roy has been appointed substitute clerk to succeed Boothby.

Country Board at Work.
The board of the country district is examining forty men each day and it is possible that they will have finished their work by Friday. The first and second district city boards are still passing judgment on exemption claims.

TEACHERS NOT TO BE EXEMPT

Appeal is to Be Taken in Case of St. Paul School Mentor.

PROBABLY WILL BE DENIED EXEMPTION

Only Recourse Beyond District Board is to the President.

That teachers and others employed in schools here in the city and elsewhere will not have good cause for exemption before the local or district boards was the opinion given out by United States Commissioner T. J. Logan in reference to a case of a teacher in the St. Paul German Lutheran school, whose exemption will be asked on the grounds that his employment is necessary in the school by Rev. Jacob Miller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

This will probably decide in the minds of a great many the question which has arisen in regard to the liability of school teachers. Rev. Miller told Commissioner Logan that in accordance with the sentiment repeatedly expressed by President Wilson that the schools should go on without interference by the draft laws, that it was his belief that good cause for exemption existed. He stated the case of one young man, a teacher in the school mentioned, who filled every qualification for the new national army, but whose position in the school should be grounds for exemption. Rev. Miller declared that he believed it would be extremely detrimental to the welfare of the St. Paul school should this young man be taken by the draft and that in accordance with President Wilson's views the taking of so many male teachers would work an incalculable injury.

Commissioner Logan, who is the person appointed to represent the interests of the government in draft appeal cases before the district board, from one of the Fort Wayne districts, told Rev. Miller that it was his opinion from facts and the law that there was little ground for exemption in such a case.

The decision of the district board is final, Commissioner Logan told the minister, except that an appeal may be made to the president of the United States, who might affirm, modify or reverse any decision of the district boards. Even then the persons making the appeal may be certified for service pending the appeal, which may last as long as two years.

The teacher in question was employed last year to take charge of the recently established commercial department in St. Paul's school. He is said to have organized the work with singular efficiency and to have discharged his duties so well that to take him now from the school would greatly cripple the work of the institution.

WILL ENROLL WOMEN IN CONSERVATION

Cards Will Be Given Out by Boy Scouts Saturday.

The boy scouts of Fort Wayne will distribute cards to every house in the city Saturday for the women who wish to enroll in the women's service for food conservation. Two cards will be given to each woman of age in the city, one to be filled out at the time it is given out and the other to be filled out and mailed to the food administrator at Washington.

The distribution of the cards which have been sent out by the Indiana Council of Defense and the United States food commissioner and Herbert Hoover, will be under the supervision of the local garden expert and director of food conservation, F. W. Gray, assisted by local masters of boy scout work. The card which the women will mail in to Washington reads in part:

"I am glad to join you in the service of food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the direction and advice of the food administrator in my home, so far as my circumstances permit."

On this card the women will list their address, occupation, number in household, occupation of breadwinner and the question "Will you take part in the authorized neighborhood movements for food conservation?"

For the Indiana Council of Defense the women will answer various questions in regard to the kind of service they can perform and a number of others.

TOURNAMENT PLAY TO BE RESUMED WEDNESDAY

Fair Weather Prevailing Today Should Give Line on New Champ.

With another day threatening rain, the prospects for a continuous session on the courts at the Country club in the struggle for Indiana singles and doubles tennis championships, did not appear bright. However, it was thought that if the expected deluge did not come enough progress would be made today in the singles to give fans of the net game a fair chance to speculate on the next champion of the state of Indiana.

Two matches in the second round of singles were to have been played Wednesday morning because of the late arrival of the contestants preventing their having been played Tuesday. Matches in the third round were scheduled to start at 2 p. m. The first contest in doubles was to have taken place either at 10 a. m. or at 4 p. m. This match was to have been between Bixel and Bixel and Lasley and Knox, and promised to be one of exceptional interest.

The match between George Balthe of this city, and Russell Bixel, of Bluffton, O., was one of the features of the day's play which was won by the local man. Balthe came back strong in the second and third sets after losing the first one 2-6 and won 6-4, 6-3.

The match was followed by one between John Bixel, father of Russell Bixel, of Bluffton, O., who played Fred Appel, of Indianapolis, state champion in 1908. Appel won 6-1 and 6-2, but all the games were hard fought, many of them going deuce, creating much interest.

After Wednesday's playing the competition should be narrowed down to a few contestants and there will be an opportunity to get a line on the probable winner of the tournament. Indications are that the tournament will be finished Friday although it is probable that the finals may be held over until Saturday. The tournament was started without a hitch and run through the first two rounds under the guidance of Dr. Charles D. Humes, of Indianapolis, who is acting as referee.

Baseball 2 P. M. TOMORROW Springfield

REAPERS AMBITIOUS FOR TWO SESSIONS

Would Catch Up With Leaders at Expense of the Chiefs.

The game with the fast going Springfield outfit at League park yesterday was called off on account of rain and two games were scheduled to take place Wednesday. The prospect of their being played did not appear any too bright because of threatening weather.

The Reapers are just beginning to see pennant visions through the glimmering mist of a radiant hue and this will undoubtedly add zest to the playing in the series here. The harvesters would hate to take advantage of the other club's troubles, but if Grand Rapids slows down as much as she is expected to because of the many injuries to her players recently, they will have to begin figuring on the bunch from Springfield pushing them out of first place.

No such glorious prospects dazzle before the eyes of the much humbled Chiefs. They are fighting for a cause different from that of their opponents at the park Wednesday afternoon. The Chiefs haven't any chance to win the pennant—a fact which, it is said, has been suspected by several fans here in town for some time. As has been said before, the Chiefs are fighting to keep Dayton in the cellar and although it has been a good race for the bottom honors, so far Dayton has had the best of it.

CENTRAL LEAGUE. Leaders Win. Richmond, Aug. 22.—Carpenter pitching for Grand Rapids, won his twentieth victory of the season here yesterday, 4 to 1. Five hits in the second inning gave the game to the league leaders. Score: R.H.E. Grand Rapids..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-4 11 1 Richmond..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0-1 3 1

Batteries—Carpenter and Alcock; Gilbert and Hauser. Errors Beat Evans. Evansville, Aug. 22.—Daubert's error in the ninth allowed Muskegon to beat Evansville 4 to 2. Two home runs featured. Score: R.H.E. Muskegon..... 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 2-4 10 1 Evansville..... 2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-3 6 1

Batteries—Schoenberg and Niederer; and Brennegan; Adams and Boelzie. AMERICAN LEAGUE. Pale Horse Win. Chicago, Aug. 22.—In one of the hardest fought games seen this season, Chicago defeated the rivals from Boston 2 to 1 and strengthened their hold on first place in the pennant race. A fist fight following a wordy argument between Gainer, of the Red Sox, and Gandil, of Chicago, was one of the features. Gandil claimed that Gainer tried to spit him, which caused the altercation. It was a pitching duel between Babe Ruth and Tex Russell. The win gives Chicago a three game lead over Boston. Score: Boston..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 9 Chicago..... 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 2-2

Indians in Runaway. Cleveland, O., Aug. 22.—Cleveland defeated Philadelphia 16 to 3, hitting Meyers at will. Bagby allowed the Athletics only a few scattered hits and got four himself, scoring as many runs as he allowed the Athletics. A large crowd was present because of the military ceremonies. Score: Philadelphia..... 0 0 0 0 2 0 1 0-3 Cleveland..... 0 0 6 1 0 4 3 2-16

Yankees Beat Boland. Detroit, Aug. 22.—New York defeated Detroit 3 to 1. Boland pitching, lost the first game he has started against the Yankees in three years that he has been in the league. Score: New York..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 2-3 Detroit..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION. Indians Win. St. Paul, Aug. 22.—Indianapolis took the last of the series here with St. Paul 6 to 1. Falkenberg's pitching was a puzzle to the Saints. Score: Indianapolis..... 3 1 0 0 0 0 1 1-6 10 1 St. Paul..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0-1 10 5

Batteries—Falkenberg and Gossett; Finerman and Hoffman. Make Clean Sweep. Milwaukee, Aug. 22.—Milwaukee won the third game and made it three straight for the series from Toledo, 6 to 3 here yesterday. Score: R.H.E. Toledo..... 0 0 1 0 0 1 1 0-3 6 1 Milwaukee..... 0 0 0 0 2 2 2 2-6 13 3

Batteries—Brady and Sweeney; Slapnick and Murphy. BUGSVILLE NOTES. (By G. Whiz). Con Daly is umpiring the Fort Wayne and Springfield series, which reminds us that you can kid McCoy but you can't kid Daly.

It is rumored that Providence will take Washington's place in the American league. The Tree-I league averages just published shows Glickson, of the locals, to be second in hitting with an average of .378 in 50 games. He played 35 games in the outfield, averaging .342. His average as a catcher in 15 games was .334. The "Little fellow" also stole 10 bases. Pitcher Allison, in the same league, topped the pitchers in fielding with an average of 1,000, accepting 38 chances without an error in 15 games.

Dayton may finish the season on the road on account of poor attendance at home. With the government aviation school going in full force Dayton fans are more interested in the new soldiers that are up every day than in Johnny New's Old Soldiers, who are down as low as they can get.

Look at this lineup of Notre Dame athletes that Uncle Sam has matched to send against Germany & Co: McInerney, Cassidy, Meehan, O'Hara, McOscar, McKenna, Jerry Murphy, James Murphy, Carey and Fitzpatrick. Picture, if you can, this squad marching the streets of Berlin on the coming 17th day of March carrying the Old Glory, and the band playing the "Weaving of the Green." Other Notre Dame men to draw commissions are: Miller, Bauman, Blackford, Grant, Keith, Jones and King, all football stars, and Vogel, Keifer, Lathrop and Kasper, of the track and baseball teams, and "Dutch" Bergman, the little speed king, who has many friends in this city.

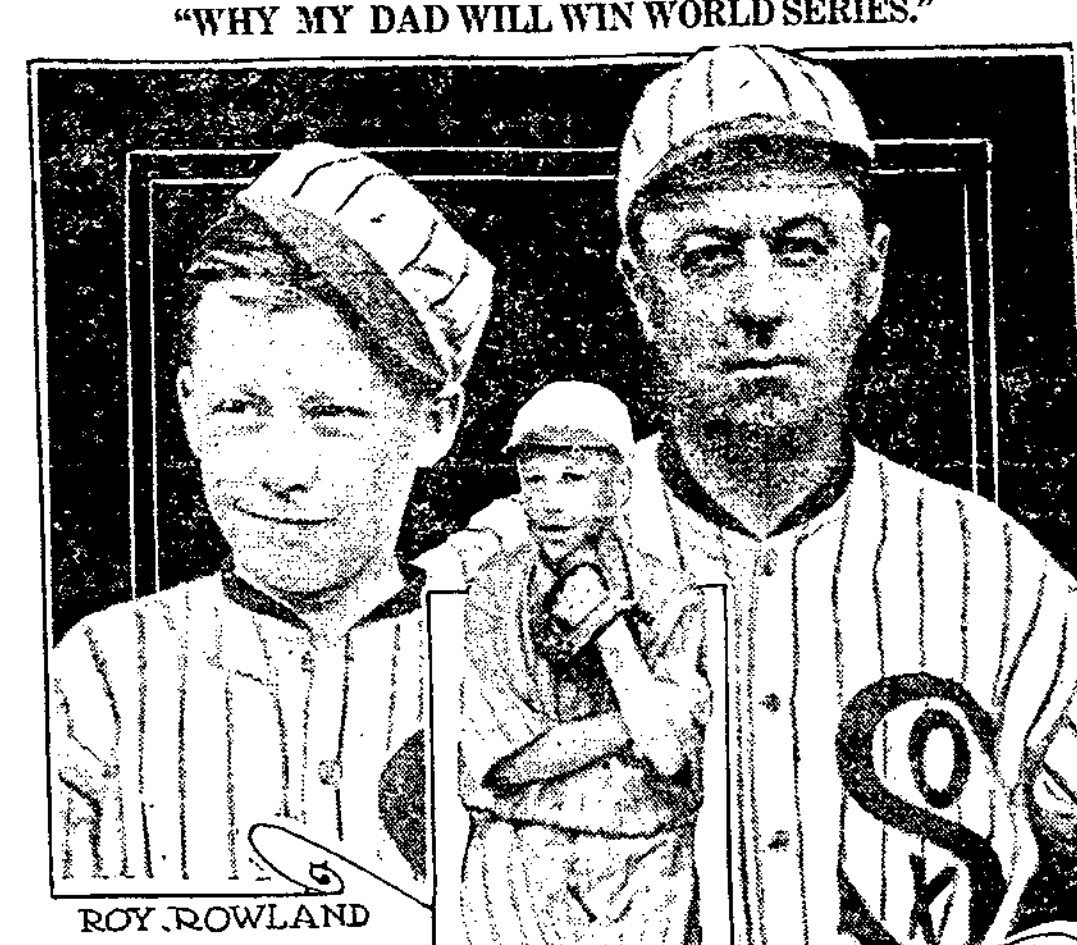

GOOD DAY'S RACING CARD AT BELMONT Shows Make Track Faster and Better Records Expected. Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 22.—With three early closing events carded for the third day of the Grand Circuit meeting at the Belmont track one of the best day's racing of the week was expected. The showers which fell last night were needed badly and the track ought to be a couple of seconds faster. Ten pacers were entered in the 2:15 class for a purse of $2,000, including Spy Direct, Don S., Ben Billings and Majorie Kay.

The free-for-all pacers will clash in the second event also for a purse of $2,000 with single G. Russell Boy, Miss Harris M. Rowan, Hal and Hal, Jr., nominated. This was expected to prove a great race and a mile close to two minutes was looked for. ROY ROWLAND CLARENCE ROWLAND

Boys, here is just what you want to know about baseball.

A boy, whom all of you envy, because he can travel around with a big league ball club all the time during the summer vacation, tells you what he thinks about the world series.

Roy Rowland, son of Manager "Pants" Rowland, of the White Sox, the club which is putting up a hard fight for the American league pennant, is the boy and he tells you why he thinks his dad is going to win in the American league and their beat out the Giants in the world series.

Roy is 15, and a real boy. He's a pretty good ball player himself, by the way, a shortstop on a team in Chicago, when he's not out with the Sox learning the hustle game as the big leaguers play it.

He is mascot and bat boy for the club and chum of every member of the team. During practice before the games he is either in the outfield chasing flies or on the side lines playing catch with "Kid" Glendon or one of the players.

Roy knows what you want to know about the big league races this year, and he tells you about it in his own words.

(By Roy Rowland, son of Manager "Pants" Rowland, and Mascot of Chicago White Sox). Of course I think dad's team is going to win the American league pennant and then beat the Giants in the world series, and I am glad to have a chance to tell the boys of America why I think so.

You see, I've been traveling around with the club so long that it's pretty hard for me to even think that they can be beaten, but then by being with the club all the time I get to know baseball pretty well and can size the other clubs up.

Then when I think about the other clubs and our club, well, I just can't see how anyone is going to beat us.

I think we are going to win because we have the pitching and the hitting which wins ball games and the spirit which won't be licked. Why, say, when we lost first place down at Boston I wish all the fellows could have been around to see how we worked together to win those last two games and get back into the lead.

You boys know how it is on your ball clubs when you have a hard game ahead. If you go out there just kind of thinking maybe you will get beat, chances are you will—but if you go out on the diamond fighting and thinking that you are going to win no matter what happens, the breaks have to be pretty tough for you to lose that game.

It's just the same way on a big league club. The spirit of the club has a lot to do with it.

That's the main reason I think dad's team is going to win. Every man is fighting every minute of the game, and they are all talking about it at the hotel and in the clubhouse. When they go on the field they go with the spirit that they won't be beaten.

And if we get into the world series they can't keep us from winning.

The Giants are the class of the National league, I know, but I don't believe National league baseball holds a candle to our league.

The Giants will be awful hard to beat because they are fighters but I think the class will tell and I think we have the class of the two teams.

AL MAMAUX SUSPENDED BY BARNEY DREYFUSS

Additional Fine Given Pirate

Star for Playing in Amateur Game.

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—Albert Mammaux, pitcher of the Pittsburg National league club, was notified last night by Barney Dreyfuss, president of the club, that he had been suspended for the remainder of the season; and that a fine of $500 had been imposed upon him for participating in an amateur game here last Sunday. Mammaux was suspended recently by Manager Bezdek of the Pittsburg team, for an inraction of club rules.

REMARKABLE RECORDS MADE IN HANDICAP

Good Marksmanship Shown in Spite of Unfavorable Weather.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—The Grand American handicap shoot being held at the South Shore Country club has provided some remarkable exhibitions of marksmanship, despite weather conditions not all favorable. The first day Frank Troeh, of Vancouver, Wash., broke 189 out of 200 targets in the amateur preliminary, declared to be a world's record at 18 yards. Many of his shots were made during a downpour of rain. The second day disclosed some excellent shooting in the feature event of 100 single targets open only to state champions and runners-up. Roy McIntyre, of Pennsylvania; Mark Ayre, of Illinois, and J. C. Clark, Jr., of Massachusetts, each broke 99 out of 100 targets. This event was finished in the twilight and the three met today for the shoot-off.

Honors in the women's event went to Miss Lucille Meusel, of Green Bay, Wis., sixteen years old. She turned in a score of 46 hits out of 50 shots.

The national amateur championship in doubles was the chief event today, the Grand American handicap, with 805 entries, being scheduled to start tomorrow.

INTRODUCING "KIND HEART," ONLY INDIAN CHORUS GIRL

LILLIAN HELMAR

(By HOWARD MANN.) (Staff Special.) Chicago, Aug. 21.—Meet the only Indian chorus girl—Miss Lillian Helmar. Don't crowd, gentlemen! She has never scalped a stage Johnny, but blood will tell, sometimes.

Miss Helmar was born beyond the foothills, but prefers to work beyond the foothills.

She is a Sioux, but she has never sued any Pittsburg millionaire for breach of promise.

She was born in the Fort Peck reservation, Montana. Her real name is Weptomana, "Kind Heart."

Kind Heart left the tepee of her parents—which in this case is a brick bungalow—five years ago. Her first experience on the stage was in "The Squaw Man." She went into the movies. Her eyes bothered her and she went into musical comedy. She has been playing all summer in Chicago in the "Show of Wonders."

Kind Heart says she preferred the stage to the primitive pastimes of the original inhabitants. And why shouldn't she? She was educated in eastern private schools and never wore a band necklace in her life—except to have her picture taken.

Twice each year Kind Heart returns to her people. "I feel a call," she says. "And when the time comes I have to force myself to go. There is something in my blood, I guess. It would be easy to drop back into the Indian life."

Kind Heart is probably the only actress who has to report regularly to Uncle Sam. Every time she changes companies or moves from one city to another she must forward her address to the Indian commissioner in Montana.

Wise old Uncle Sam keeps an eye on his wards even when they go on the stage—even, or especially, "I have never been married nor anywhere near it," said Kind Heart. "But if I every marry I will choose a widower who has had two or preferably three wives. A man who has been married is the only one who knows how to appreciate a wife."

So much for the philosophy of Weptomana.

EVERY WOMAN
EVERY MOTHER
EVERY DAUGHTER
NEEDS IRON
AT TIMES

To put strength into her nerves and color into her cheeks.

There is a beautiful, healthy, rosy, checked woman with a clear complexion. The trouble in the past has been that when women need iron they get a cheap, ordinary, metallic iron which often corrodes the stomach and does far more harm than good. Today doctors prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron. This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken the teeth, nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak nervous, irritable, nervous, haggard looking women 100 per cent in the matter of health and vitality. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.

NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended by Dr. Ferdinand King, who guarantees its success or it is dispensed in this city at all good druggists.

NEW RUSSIAN DOESN'T GIVE TWO HOOTS FOR A WARM WATER PORT OR FATE OF SOUTHERN SLAVS

He Considers Himself Nothing Less Than a Citizen of the World—Turkey May Keep Constantinople and Poland May Flock by Himself With His Best Wishes—But He'll Fight Hard and Gladly to Save Democracy or the Revolution.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
 (Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

The Russian casualties in this war so far are more than 7,000,000—killed, wounded and prisoners.

Sometimes a Russian quietly and gently mentions this fact to an Englishman or an American that is lecturing him about Russia's duty in the present emergency, and then the Englishman or the American finds it hard to carry on the conversation.

In spite of her terrific losses Russia will go on and fight, but she wants to fight for something worth while and not because somebody tells her to fight, and not for the things nations usually fight for.

For instance, Russia doesn't give a hoot about Constantinople and a warm water port.

I have tried hard to make some of my English-speaking friends understand this, but have never had any luck. Somehow, it doesn't take hold. It slides off their minds like a cat's claws on a granite shaft. It doesn't seem to find anything to stick to.

They can't understand a nation so foolish. A warm water port—it would mean everything to the future wealth, prosperity and commercial greatness of Russia. At present her only ports on her European side are frozen up five or six months of the year and she is therefore strangled in her commercial development. If she had Constantinople she could spread her business and influence very likely over all the world.

The typical Russian knows this very well, but he doesn't care, and the rest of the world will not get hold of the Russian situation until it understands that he doesn't care and why he doesn't.

The fact is, he isn't looking for the commercial aggrandizement of Russia. He doesn't care to see the Russian flag floating in all the seven seas. He hasn't the slightest interest in the fact that Russia with a port open all the year could crowd England out of this market and America out of that.

He isn't disturbed by the fact that Poland is lost to Russia. If the Poles want to go off and flock by themselves and will not be happy until they have a hoot of their own, let them go to it. Goodbye, old tops! Here's luck and a pleasant time for all.

The typical Russian would no more

think of killing some Poles because some other Poles wanted to be free than he would think of killing his son because he didn't like cabbage soup.

And it isn't merely a passive feeling with him. He thinks it is dead wrong to be dealing in conquered territories and slicing up maps and all that sort of thing, and his mind is firmly decided that he will not do it. Let Turkey keep Constantinople till the crack of doom, for all he cares.

Well, then, what does he care about? What does move him?

Why, democracy and his dream of universal brotherhood and good will. He wouldn't fight anybody to gain a dozen warm water ports; he wouldn't shed any blood for any amount of territorial expansion or trade.

But he will fight as hard as any other man in the world and perhaps a little harder, if he thinks his democracy is in danger, or the revolution, light of his soul and breath of his life, may be overthrown.

So then here is a new force let loose in this world, and gentlemen that love wisdom and pursue it would do well to consider it with the utmost attention, because, believe me, if it isn't suppressed it will tear up more things than musty old thrones and put more felles on the curio shelf than foolish, doddling old kings.

The ideal that is the Real—that is Russia.

It means business, it is in most serious earnest, it will endeavor not merely to live up to its doctrine but to spread it, and providing Germany doesn't overrun the Russian defense before the United States can get into the fight, you are likely to see the bulk of Russia's new social philosophy put into actual practice in Russia.

I know this is a startling assertion, and one not in accordance with the accepted beliefs in this country. But gentlemen that are sceptical about a Realized Utopia haven't spent days and nights in the Russian National Council of Workmen's Soldiers' and Peasants' Deputies. I have. That makes the difference.

But anyway, it is plainly of no use to tell this Russian that he ought to go out and fight that Russia may be great in territory or in commerce. He doesn't want her to be great in either.

It is useless to talk to him about his racial obligations to the Slavs of Serbia or Herzegovina. He doesn't think of himself as a Slav. He thinks of himself as a citizen of a world that ought to have only one race, and that the human race.

He will never believe that he ought to fight because a half-witted person, then called a czar, now (I give thanks!) harvesting potatoes in the Caucasus, once signed some papers obligating Old Russia to do certain things. Old Russia is no more, the czar has vanished, not one thing that he did can bind the New Russia.

Across the measureless gulf that has opened between the Old Russia and the New there is not even wireless communication.

But that democracy may survive in the world and not be suppressed; that there may be a chance to carry out the hopes of social regeneration that are the mainspring of his philosophy, the typical Russian will lay down his life without the least hesitation.

He didn't face death and Siberia, (which is worse) all the years of the revolutionary fight without learning the value of freedom or the only price with which it can be either won or maintained—which is sacrifice.

The county commissioners Tuesday approved the plans for the heating of the county jail building here by a vapor system, and bids for the construction of the same will be received up until noon of September 15. The plans and specifications were drawn by Snyder & Rotz, of Indianapolis. The county several months ago made a proposition before the council of Columbia City to tap the steam plant, to furnish heat for the jail. The steam exhaust lines from the city power plant, for the court house and the school buildings, but the proposition to heat the jail therefrom was finally dropped.

The young couple left in the evening for Louisville, Ky., to make their future home.

The will of the late John W. Pence, filed Tuesday by Gates & Whiteleather, leaves the personal and real estate to a nephew, Roy Pence, who cared for the deceased during his declining years. The estate is valued at $10,000. John Nichols, owner of the former Ream general store at Larwill, has traded the store at invoice price for 160 acres of land in Daviess county. The consideration of the land is $18,400, the difference being paid in cash to the owner of the land, W. C. Forrester, who takes possession of the store next week.

officers, John Bennett, president, and Wilson Bennett, secretary, were re-elected.

Elmer Nel, trustee of Columbia township, has sold eight spring hogs to a county stock buyer for $338, an average of $42.25 per head. They brought $16.25 per hundred.

Bad Attack of Diarrhoea Cured.
 "About two years ago I had an attack of bowel trouble and was in a serious condition when I began using Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. J. Rogan, Fairport, N. Y. "This medicine relieved me at once and after taking three or four doses of it I was cured." People are always pleased by the prompt cures which this remedy effects. THE IRISH IN HEROIC ROLE did not achieve the success which they sought, but the struggle they made against overwhelming odds will make their names immortal in Irish annals. The ground over which the Irish fought Thursday may roughly be placed as lying between Fort on the north and Frezenberg on the south. Before them lay strong Bavarian positions scattered over a terrain which at first blush made an advance seem impossible. Stretching out from the Zonnebeke-Langemark road across the center of the battlefield was a ridge which dominated all surrounding ground and from a myriad of machine guns on the crest could be poured a deluge of bullets into the advancing ranks.

A Hard Job Ready Made.

Through the southern portion of this section the swollen Zonnebeke river poured its muddy waters and scattered along both banks of the stream were many steel and concrete redoubts holding from twenty to one hundred Germans, all well armed. Immediately in front of the Irish was undulating ground. Every knoll was a strong Bavarian position and the whole section was filled with concrete pits, redoubts and shell holes nested in the ground were a mass of knee-deep mud caused by recent rains and the flood of the river.

The Irish battalions were muddy and wet when they began the attack. The Ulstermen were on the left of the battlefield and the men of the south on the right. Shoulder to shoulder they moved out among the heart-breaking obstacles at the break of day, bogging at every step and all that human beings could have done under such circumstances they did.

As they advanced they first encountered the customary thin hold line of German outposts among the shell craters. These Bavarians fell back and almost immediately the Irishmen found themselves facing fire from every machine gun before them. A rapid fire whipping out a steady stream of lead, breast high, across the whole battlefield.

Fought Them Down. Amidst this hail of bullets and crashing shells the Irishmen pushed doggedly forward. The Ulstermen first struck a position called Pond farm, far below Fort. Here were many machine guns placed in concrete pits behind which were strong redoubts and deep dugouts. The Ulstermen plunged into the gun pits and a fierce struggle followed. The Bavarians would not surrender and they fought until the German lay crumpled beside his gun. A small garrison was left to hold this place and the Irishmen pushed on. There was constant and bitter fighting at every step. Near Pond farm they were held up by party cut barbed wire entanglements and as they struggled through they were swept with bullets. Numerous redoubts were encountered beyond and in most cases it was hard to hand fighting to a finish with a stubborn enemy. The southern Irishmen at a given hour went forward with all the coolness which made them famous at Glency and other places. They surged on through the mire to some of their objective, but they had passed numerous unyielding machine gun emplacements and the following waves of infantry were held up by these.

Obliged to Yield to Weight. North of Frezenberg was a redoubt called Berry farm, holding sixty to eighty Bavarians with machine guns. The position was too strong for the infantry to take, but the Irishmen battled on until these troops, which had essayed an attack on the fortifications, lay dead or wounded before it. But others pushed forward to hill 55, as the ridge which dominated the surrounding ground was known, and for a time that eminence was actually in British hands. But it was too important a position for the Germans to relinquish. They massed great numbers of men behind it and hurled them against the Irish. The latter met the onslaught with bayonet and clubbed rifles and fought as their forefathers fought—fiercely and determinedly.

But they were greatly outnumbered and gradually they were forced to fall back until the Germans had regained their hold on the hill. The Bavarians then began a series of heavy counter attacks and the Irish, many of them wounded and all exhausted, retreated slowly, fighting every inch of the way, until they reached the trenches which they left at dawn and which they held.

Heroic Priest Martyr. No more heroic effort has been made since the war began than this. There had been many instances of individual heroism, a striking case being that of the chaplain, who gave his life while working among the men he loved. They tried to keep him back, but he had been with them in Glency and other struggles and he would not desert his boys now, so he continued to work in shell torn, bullet swept field, his kindly face seen now beside some wounded man, now beside another who was dying. It was while he was kneeling to give a sacrament to a wounded man that a German shell broke near him and he was killed. It was a great loss to the Irish troops and his name was spoken with tears by those left behind. Another who will not be forgotten is the doctor who for five days and nights continued his work of rescuing wounded under heavy fire.

BERLIN AND VIENNA SPLIT.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 22.—In diplomatic circles the passage in the speech of Dr. Georg Michaelis, the German chancellor, in which he said: "Notwithstanding efforts to hasten a decision, it has not yet been possible for Germany to agree with her allies concerning a joint reply to the papal note," is interpreted as indicating a difference of opinion between Berlin and Vienna, and also between Vienna and Sofia.

Austria, according to reports, desires complete acceptance of the papal note, whereas Germany wishes only conditional acceptance and Bulgaria demands public assurances by her allies that she may annex the territory now occupied by her.

SOCIALISTS DISAPPOINTED.

Copenhagen, Aug. 22.—After Chancellor Michaelis had informed the main committee of the reichstag Tuesday that Germany would not reply to the papal peace note until she had consulted her allies, socialists said they thought he welcomed the pope's action as he would welcome any step capable of bringing peace and all the more so because it was expected to bear results. The liberals declared themselves in agreement with the chancellor's sympathetic interpretation of the pope's action. The centerists associated themselves with the chancellor's remarks and said the pope's proposal marked extraordinary valuable progress toward peace, which was so ardently desired by all nations.

They hoped the act of his holiness would meet with full success. The national liberal speakers said they were unable as yet to examine closely the contents of the papal note, but endorsed the chancellor's statements. The conservatives also associated themselves with Dr. Michaelis' remarks but reserved their attitude with regard to the details. The German group especially welcomed the chancellor's firm declaration that the note emanated spontaneously from the pope.

It was announced that coke had increased ten cents a ton, the change having been due to increased production costs which would have raised the price on September 1 anyway.

ON DOWN THE LINE.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—Having determined the prices to be charged for bituminous coal at the mines throughout the country, President Wilson today turned his attention again to the task of selecting a man to head the coal administration.

Rumors today named President Harry A. Garfield, of Williams college, now head of the committee fixing prices on wheat, as the likely appointee.

The president also soon will fix the coal prices to be charged by middlemen and retailers.

The president is believed to have abandoned the trade commission proposal to commandeer the output of the mines and sell the product to the public. Coal prices were fixed in conformity with the trade commission which recently made an exhaustive investigation into production cost. The price of run of mine coal in the large mining regions averages slightly more than $2 a ton and range from 20 to 35 per cent under the maximum of three dollars fixed by government officials and coal operators at a recent conference here.

The $3 price was refused by operators following its repudiation by Secretary Baker, who claimed it was too high.

QUITS MAKING MUNITIONS.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 22.—The imperial munitions boards announced today that production of munitions in Canada will be discontinued, as no longer necessary, except in some lines which in part will be produced in lesser quantities. Some of the plants affected in consequence will resume pre-war activities in their regular lines; others will engage in production of equipment for ships.

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

Perlin, Aug. 22.—French troops have gained a footing in the southwestern part of Avocourt wood and on the knolls to the east of that position on the Verdun front, says the official statement issued today by the German war office.

The German statement also says that the French forced their way into the German positions in the southern part of the village of Samogneux, on the east bank of the Meuse. The losses of the French infantry, the German report says, were very heavy and the French command had to replace several attacking divisions.

After the battle around Lens yesterday the German staff reports the coal depot, southwest of the French mining center, remained in the hands of the British.

ORDERED INTERNED.

Kansas City, Aug. 22.—Instructions to intern Kari Arnezaard Greaves, wired here today from Washington by Francis M. Wilson, United States district attorney. Greaves was arrested here last week and Mr. Wilson recommended that he be incarcerated.

SPANISH RADICAL FLEES.

Perpignan, France, Aug. 22.—Alejandro Lerroux, the Spanish radical leader and Deputy Marica, who were being sought by the Spanish authorities, have escaped into France. Reports of the arrest of Deputies Ventosa and Bertrand y Mustia are said to be untrue.

NO SPECIAL SESSION NOW

The statement prepared by Dr. Lewis for Governor Goodrich, said that conditions may arise later which will necessitate a special session of the legislature, but that the call for such a session will be laid aside for at least a month. The governor advises the consumers to begin laying in the winter coal supply.

The Governor's Statement. The statement in part follows: "Indiana, with the entire country, approves without reservation the step that has been taken by President Wilson in fixing war prices for coal.

"The price which he has fixed for the Indiana and other bituminous coal fields is a fair price. It will yield a reasonable profit to operators. To the consumer it will reduce the prices which have been characterized as 'outrageous'."

"This step taken by the president will make unnecessary, at least for the time being, a calling of the legislature together. Circumstances may arise which may necessitate a special session, but for a month the matter will be laid aside. This announcement, I feel sure, will be as gratifying to the people of this state as the announcement made by the president this morning in which he fixes the price of coal at the mines."

Advices Coal Purchasers. "With what must be considered to be fair prices for coal established, I advise all of our people to begin laying in a coal supply for this winter."

"I have no doubt that the operators will see the wisdom of carrying into full effect this decree of the government which has behind it the united support of the people of this country and which provides fair profits for operators."

"Every one will know what the price of coal is at the mine. To this cost must be added the freight rate to the points where used. People will generally know what is a fair price beyond the total of these two figures. The dispatches from Washington indicate, however, that the president's next step will be to put similar limitations on the coal dealers and middle men."

EXCURSION IS WRECKED

the delay of the second section was explained by a telephone message summoning doctors and all the ambulances to Lima City.

Ten doctors were summoned also from Bowling Green. The cause of the wreck is said to have been the sudden setting of the air brakes. The heavy locomotive toppled over and several coaches were crumpled in the wreck. The Toledo & Ohio Central chief traveling fireman, who was riding on the locomotive, is reported to have been crushed to death under it.

tween the Germans and hill 70. The Germans continued to fling heavy counter attacks against the Canadians and the battle raged back and forth amid the ruined buildings and trenches. This morning the advantage rested with the British and nowhere had the Germans been able to reach the lines from which the Canadians began their offensive yesterday morning. It now appears from the statements of German prisoners that the counter attack at dawn yesterday, which began at the same hour as that of the Canadian attack, was preliminary to a general counter attack which had as its object the recovery of hill 70, possession of which is necessary if the Germans are to continue their hold on Lens.

Large numbers of troops had been massed for this attack and these were used freely in the sanguinary struggle of yesterday and last night.

HOLD GAINS AT LENS.

London, Aug. 22.—In the face of heavy German counter attacks the British have maintained the newly gained positions on the outskirts of Lens, the war office announces. Further progress has been made at some points.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—After protracted debate in which many senators urged heavier levies on incomes and war profits in the war tax bill, the senate today tentatively adopted the Senate Finance amendment which would add $4,375,000 by greatly increasing surtaxes on incomes exceeding $500,000.

CHARGES HUGE FRAUDS.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Charges that the government has been defrauded out of fully $20,000,000 in income taxes evaded by the wealthy were made in the senate today by Senator Lewis, who declared the treasury department had the proofs.

THE MARKETS

CORN CONTINUES DROP ON LOCAL MARKETS

Fall of 6c Brings Figure to Low Mark for Season—
Receipts Heavier.

A further weakness was noted in the corn market Wednesday morning, the grain continuing the drop which was started the early part of the week. Six cents was knocked off the bottom price of the previous day, with $1.66 ruling as the top price on the city scales. Only three loads were weighed there, ranging from $1.62 to $1.66.

Receipts were much heavier Wednesday. Twenty loads were weighed at the city scales. One load of old hay brought $15, the price which has prevailed for several weeks. Eight loads of new hay brought $11 to $13 per ton, an increase in the top price of $1 on the ton. Eight loads of oats on the city scales sold for 56c to 60c for this grain.

Wheat remained practically stationary. Millers are paying from $3.09 to $2.04 per bushel.

Due to a scarcity on the poultry market, prices have advanced slightly. From 1c to 3c has been added to the price of ducks, both young and old selling for 13c per pound.

GIRLS! MAKE LEMON LOTION TO WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY SKIN

In all weathers the skin and complexion can be kept wonderfully clear, soft and white by the use of this inexpensive lemon lotion which any girl or woman can easily prepare.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost of one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

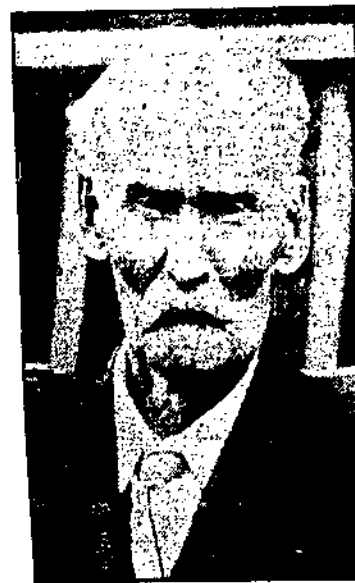

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and hidden beauty of any skin. Those who will make it a habit to gently massage this lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands once or twice daily may be repaid with a skin that is flexible and young looking and a peach-like complexion.—Advertisement.

New Hair Remover In Demand, Say Druggists

The active Removes Roots and All!

Since the virtues of phenacetin as a hair remover became generally known, druggists in this country have been having a really extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. The fact that it actually removes the roots—before one's very eyes—as well as the surface hairs, is of course mainly responsible for its large and increasing sale. The new method is not to be compared at all with the usual depilatory, electrical or other processes. It is entirely safe, non-irritating, non-poisonous, odorless—and instantaneous! A stick of phenacetin, used in accordance with the simple instructions which accompany it, can be purchased anywhere on a money-back basis, so certain is it to satisfy and delight the user.—Advertisement.

NUMBER MAY BE CUT DOWN

Opinion is that Not So Many Recruiting Offices Will Be Maintained.

THIS ACTION MAY BE TAKEN NEXT MONTH

Major T. F. Ryan Can Place Sixty Men in Indiana Cavalry.

In view of the fact that recruiting is one of the most expensive branches of the service and since after the conscript army has been mobilized that not near so many recruits will be needed, it is possible that the number of recruiting stations in Indiana will be cut down to approximately twenty stations.

At the present time there are nearly eighty recruiting offices in the state and it is the opinion in military circles that only one main office will be maintained after the conscript army is mobilized.

Information is given that after the first of October instead of a strenuous drive for men in the regular army only perhaps from twenty-five to thirty thousand men will be needed each month and these can be secured even if the number of offices are cut down to about a fourth.

Major Thomas F. Ryan, of the army recruiting station, announces that he can place sixty men in the Indiana cavalry troop now stationed at the fair grounds at Indianapolis. Twenty men were sent from the local station to Fort Thomas Tuesday evening.
